

WILSON CALLS ROUND TABLE OF U. S. INDUSTRIES

Convene at Washington in October; Starts Tour
Tonight.

BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.

Washington, D. C., Sept. 2.—(Special.)—President Wilson, on the eve of his departure to talk to the people of his country, determined to include representatives of agriculture in the industrial and economic conference he has proposed between leaders of capital and labor.

After a final meeting of the cabinet, before he takes the issues of the peace treaty and high cost of living directly to the ears of the public, the president authorized the announcement that the economic conference would be held early in October.

Secretary Tamm also made it known that fifteen invitations to attend the proposed conference already have been prepared by the president and would be sent out from the White House tomorrow. Among these fifteen will be leaders of finance and manufacturing, labor, and agriculture. Their names were not disclosed, and it was stated the list would be extended later.

Plans Big Economic Changes.

During his tour, which opens Thursday at Columbus, O., the president is expected to discuss from discussion of a league of nations covenant and a peace treaty to talk about industrial and economic conditions in the country, and it is believed he will endeavor to pave the way for laying before the forthcoming White House conference ambitious plans for changing and bettering relations between capital and labor.

In the forthcoming conference the public, it is understood, will be represented by members of the cabinet and president himself. Secretary of the Interior Lane is certain to be one of them, having been one of the first to suggest such an economic "round table" discussion as the president has planned. Others to sit in the conference will be Secretary of Labor Wilson, Secretary of Agriculture Houston, and probably Secretary of War Baker.

Prospective Conference Guests.

Secretary Lane, it is understood, will have considerable to do with arranging details for the conference during the president's absence. The formal call for the conference, it is understood, will not be issued until the president returns. The Council of National Defense will be asked to assist and the president also proposes to ask the United States chamber of commerce to cooperate with him in selecting representatives of capital who are to be invited to participate.

It is said E. H. Gary and Charles M. Schwab are almost certain to be called to Chicago for the conference. As he is Secretary of the American Federation of Labor, will be called, of course. Other executives of the A. F. of L. will be included, and some of the railroad brotherhood heads will be urged to participate.

With this all important conference coming in October, Washington in that month is to become the world center of economic and industrial affairs, the international labor conference under terms of the peace treaty having been called here for Oct. 23.

Criticized by Rodenburg.

Two Illinois representatives figured in a sharp political clash in the house today. Representative Rodenburg, Republican, scored the president for his plan to tour the country. Representative Henry T. Rainey, Democrat, accused the Republicans of furthering tariff bills which would increase the cost of living.

"In compliance with the suggestion of the president, the house, by a vote of 219 to 191, passed a resolution, read by the speaker, which was as follows: 'Resolved, That the committee on the part of the executive to shift responsibility to the legislative branch of the government and shield the hopelessness of the department of justice in the matter of prosecuting and enforcing the laws now on the statute books against profiteering, yet we complied with the president's wishes.'"

Rainey Scores G. O. P.

Mr. Rainey went after the Republicans while opposing a bill increasing duties on zinc ore.

"You Republicans are favoring bills to increase the cost of clothing, the cost of building, and the cost of food," Mr. Rainey said. "You have reported out of committee a bill increasing the cost of dye and have just passed a bill increasing the duties on buttons. They increase the cost of clothing. You have favored three bills increasing the cost of building by raising the duties on zinc, manganese, and tungsten. You favor a bill increasing the duty on potato flour, which puts up the cost of food."

Albanians Slay Italian

Troops; Belgrade Hears

BELGRADE, Sept. 2.—Numbers of Italian soldiers have been slain in severe attacks by Albanian clansmen, according to the Politika of this city. The remainder of the Italian troops retired toward Durazzo and other strategic points.

FRIEDRICH WILL SIGN ROUMANIA'S HARSH TERMS

BY JOHN CLAYTON.

(Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.)

[By Special Cable.]

(Copyright, 1919, By the Tribune Company.)

BUDAPEST, Aug. 31, via Paris, Sept. 2.—When I called on the Hungarian ministry president, Friedrich, this afternoon I wanted answers to three questions to which all Hungary seeks answers: First, whether he had received a Roumanian ultimatum to sign or to accept a Roumanian dictatorship; second, what action he had taken to prevent pogroms; third, why he declared himself the chosen leader of the workmen and refused the Socialist admittance to his cabinet.

In answer to the first question, he said: "I have received no official ultimatum from the Roumanian commander in chief."

When I asked him whether he had had unofficial notice of their intentions to present such a demand Friedrich admitted he had. He went on to say: "From the moment this treaty is signed Hungary as a nation is ruined. We are fully aware of the serious nature of this. But we sign now before armed force. If we sign now perhaps we can prevent a complete plundering of our land."

"As for a pogrom," Friedrich continued, "I am doing everything in my power to prevent it. All offenders will be treated as robbers and murderers under the law and will be tried."

GARRETT STRIKES AT HOTEL VICE. Chief Garrett last night issued a general order to the effect hereafter all billboards, clerks, elevator operators, and other attendants of hotels found acting as agents for women of ill repute shall be charged with pandering instead of disorderly conduct. The new charge carries a maximum fine of $1,000 in addition to a six-month sentence. The maximum fine for disorderly conduct is $200.

WILSON AWAITS DETAILS OF LAST BORDER ATTACK

Two Flyers Shot Down by Carranza Soldiers Near Laredo, Tex.

(By a Staff Correspondent.)

Washington, D. C., Sept. 2.—[Special.]—The latest crisis in the Mexican situation was furnished today by the most warlike demonstration against the United States by the Mexicans that has taken place in some time.

The attack on an American army airplane patrolling the border near Laredo, Texas, and the wounding of one of the aviators, Capt. Davis W. McNabb, caused a commotion at the war department among officers who are growing restive as it becomes more and more apparent that the Mexicans have no more fear of the armed and uniformed soldiers of the United States than of defenseless American civilians.

Secretary Baker is Patient.

Secretary Baker, however, placidly remarked that he was awaiting an official report indicating whether the American aviators were flying over American or Mexican soil when the attack took place.

The inference from the secretary's remarks was that if the American flyer was wounded on the American side of the border the Mexicans were guilty of an attack on the United States, but if the airplane was on the Mexican side at the time the attack might be regarded as an attempt to repel an invasion.

The matter came up at the cabinet meeting, when Mr. Baker reported the occurrence to the president, and the entire Mexican situation, including the growing hostility of Carranza to the United States, was discussed.

President Also Waits.

The president agreed with the secretary of war that the seriousness of the attack on the airplane could not be determined until its location was ascertained.

Official advice tonight was to the effect that the airplane was well within American territory when fired upon. Whether another punitive expedition has been launched across the border in pursuit of the hostile Mexicans could not be learned at the war department tonight.

It was stated that standing instructions permit the American border forces to pursue marauding bands of Mexicans into Mexican territory as far as it is necessary to kill, capture, or disperse them.

The state department announced that Mexican federal troops have killed the leader of a bandit group that murdered Adam Schaefer, a naturalized American citizen, near Pinos, Zacatecas, on Aug. 28.

Ford Plant in Mexico?

A letter from an American banker at Chihuahua states that Henry Ford is about to establish a tractor factory in northern Mexico despite the disturbed conditions there. It appears, however, that the factory force is to be composed, not of Americans, but of Mexican mechanics now employed at the Dearborn, Mich., plant.

The full committee of the senate committee on foreign relations completed plans today for a comprehensive investigation of conditions in Mexico. The committee will take about ten

THE TURBULENT MEXICAN BORDER

1—Capt. David B. McNabb, an American aviator, and his companion were fired on by Mexicans while on patrol duty near Laredo, Tex. Capt. McNabb was wounded and the plane was struck by many bullets. It is said that Mexicans frequently fire on the American flyers on the border.

2—The Arizona live stock sanitary board has suggested that a high and strong international fence, something in the nature of an entanglement, be built along the Mexican frontier to stop the cattle thieves that are continually going on along the border.

3—Two American airplanes caused a sensation by flying high over Chihuahua City. When it was announced that the two were American and not Mexican planes, the Mexicans were greatly aroused, it is reported. The visitors came down the railroad via Palomir and Alamo and returned over Presidio, Tex.

days to examine officials of the state and war departments. Then it will go to the Mexican border.

SILENT ON CARRANZA

Officials here read with interest the summary of President Carranza's message to the Mexican congress, but were disinclined to discuss it.

It was pointed out, however, that there seemed to be nothing to indicate that Carranza contemplates any recession from his position that petroleum deposits belong to the nation, and that confiscation of property of foreigners is to be expected by some legal means.

The fact that 90 per cent of the property of the American oil companies is admittedly to be confiscated as undeveloped land is regarded as significant. President Carranza's reference to the Monroe doctrine, declaring that Mexico did not and would not recognize, it caused no surprise in official circles, for his attitude on that American policy has long been known.

Ranger to Aid Senators

Austin, Tex., Sept. 2.—Senator Captain W. M. Hanson of the Texas senate has been granted an indefinite leave of absence by Gov. Hobby. It was announced today, so it was said, as a special investigator for the subcommittee of the senate foreign relations committee, which will investigate relations between the United States and Mexico.

TWO AVIATORS SHOT DOWN

Laredo, Tex., Sept. 2.—Fired upon from the Mexican side of the Rio Grande, Capt. Davis W. McNabb, U. S. aviation corps, was slightly wounded today while on aerial patrol duty along the international boundary northwest of here.

With Lieut. von de B. Johnson, Capt. McNabb was flying slowly up the river close to the water when suddenly a group of Mexicans fired a volley at the airplane, wounding McNabb near the ear, while several shots pierced the plane's wings.

Carranza Troops Blamed. Col. Beaumont B. Buck, commander of the Laredo district, with headquarters at Fort McIntosh here, said tonight that it is known of the attack is that the firing was from a point where an outpost of Mexican federal soldiers was known to be located. No additional statement would be made by Col. Buck, who promptly for-

BY CAPT. KENT HUNTER.

El Paso, Texas, Sept. 2.—[Special.]—Two days ago dispatches from Chihuahua City, Mexico, carried news of excitement among the Mexican residents over the appearance above that city of two American airplanes, flying high, and circling round and round over the city on Aug. 28.

Today it was practically established that the ships were those flown by Lieut. M. A. St. John and Lieut. H. W. Benton, and carrying Maj. W. A. Hill and Capt. Marcus Taylor of the engineering corps. The planes landed at Royce flying field, Marfa, in the dark, on the night of Aug. 28, were partly wrecked and the pilots and observers slightly injured.

Secret Is Out. And the secret back of it has been explained. The planes, it is said, were observation ships, thoroughly equipped with photographic apparatus, and the engineer officers, acting as observers, were part of the topographical section of the southern department, who have had a large part in the work of completing and correlating maps on northern Mexico in possession of the engineering department of the southern department, which has—and this is letting out no military information that is not common property—more complete maps of Sonora, Chihuahua and Coahuila than the Mexican government.

BALTIC NATIONS WAVER ON EDGE OF BOLSHEVISM

Half Baked Entente Policy
Robs Them of All Confidence.

BY RICHARD HENRY LITTLE.
(Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.)
(By Special Cable.)

(Revised: 1919: By the Tribune Company.)
REVAL, Aug. 31, via Copenhagen, Sept. 1.—The entente seems to expect little nations on the edge of Russia and the anti-bolshevik Russians to clear up Russia and to make an end of Lenin, Trotsky, and the whole bolshevik outfit. What Kolchak is doing away over toward Siberia or Denikin on the south is unknown here, for communists are almost entirely cut off, but the campaign to make the world safe for democracy is limping very badly in the Baltic neighborhood.

The Finns, Estonians, Letts, and Lithuanians have settled down on their own frontier, making no effort at pushing the fighting into bolshevik territory. The White Russians in liberated Russian territory have been driven out of Pskov and are being edged back every day until there is no more of liberated Russia left in this neck of the woods.

Let George Do It.
The entente apparently wants the Russian states of Russia cleaned out, but they seem resolved to let George do it. George means the little nations bordering Russia and the White Russians. And George seems to have no interest. The trouble with the little Baltic countries is that they are much afraid of the bolsheviks and while the entente has assured them that they are behind the Baltic countries, these countries are fearful that the entente is too far behind them to do any good. If the bolsheviks decide to punish them for daring to oppose them.

The White Russians have been the only army on the aggressive, but their forces have dwindled badly in the last few weeks, over 20,000 men evaporating, probably going back again to the red army. Consequently the White Russians are no longer attacking, but are hanging on doggedly to the liberated Russia still left to them.

Full Dinner Pail Their Flag.

There is a big, cheerful element of Russians not at all particular on which side they fight. When the bolsheviks have plenty of food and clothing they fight for the bolsheviks. When they hear that new shipments of flour, coffee, and especially cigarettes have arrived for the White Russians, they desert the Reds by regiments and come over to join the White army. When the White army gets down to the bottom of the flour barrel, thousands of these warriors disappear during the night and bob up in the bolshevik army again.

At first food came, but no ammunition. Now ammunition is arriving, but the food is all gone.
America has been supplying the White army and Baltic nations with flour and other foodstuffs, but the White army is badly in need of clothing, especially as winter is coming on. The nights already are quite cold and the rains have begun.

The Potato Error.

The entente has been very liberal in the matter of food, but did not understand at first just what the Estonians needed. For instance, the Estonians valued wheat for big shipments of foodstuffs announced to be coming from France. A ship finally arrived. There was great consternation among the Estonians, as it was loaded entirely with evaporated potatoes. Now one thing, the only thing that Estonians are on is potatoes. The only crop of the country in fact, makes it known as "the Potato Republic."

The Estonians felt like getting up and walking right over to the bolsheviks. Bolshevism sentiment is gaining headway in Estonia because of anger that Estonia is not recognized as a nation. Sympathy with the bolsheviks is growing to such an extent that bolshevik mass meetings are talked of in Reval.

Salesmanship

Science is organized facts. There is nothing "high brow" about facts. Organization doesn't subtract from the value of facts. It intensifies their power.

Art is doing. It is the application of facts. The art of selling is the science of salesmanship applied.

We are all salesmen. You sell services. Have you given careful thought to the natural laws which govern the Art of Successful Selling?

We are living in a universe of law, not luck. These laws organized become the Science of Salesmanship.

TRAIN TRAGEDY LINK IN FAMILY CHAIN OF DEATH

Aged Mother of Tanner
Tells of Similar Fatalities.

Somewhere a clock struck 3, the bedtime hour for children, and the visitor to the home of 315 Linden avenue, Hubbard Woods, lightened his footfall as he reached the porch.

The white haired woman who opened the door bowed him into a modestly furnished parlor, through an arched portal of which he could see into the sitting room beyond, where two small white robed figures knelt beside an arm chair.

In the arm chair sat a little girl, Helena Tanner, 4½ years old. The two who knelt were her twin brothers, William and Lyman, 3½ years old. The woman, Mrs. W. D. Chatley, 80 years old, whispered to the visitor:

"We've told Helena about it, but the babies don't know. They think their papa and mamma have gone on a long, long journey. They're saying their evening prayers."

The Mother's Sad Story.

And through the portal, in childish treble, came the phrase: "Now I lay me down to sleep, I pray the Lord my soul to keep."

Helena had assumed the duties of a little mother. In the silence that ensued the visitor thought of another scene a few blocks away, in an undertaking establishment, where in the afternoon a coroner's jury had listened to the story of how William Pitch Tanner had chosen to die with his wife, Mary, when he found he could not rescue her from the path of a Chicago and Northwestern passenger train.

"I do not know," it was Mrs. Chatley, Tanner's mother, speaking. "I do not know, I think sometimes a curse has been pronounced upon us."

"My son's father, William Tanner, was killed by a train at Mechanicsville, N. Y., when my son was but 5 years old. My second husband, a painter, was also run down and killed at Albany, N. Y."

"My son's wife was left an orphan when she was 5 years old, her parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Daugherty, dying within a year of each other."

"And now comes this. They were only going to the motion picture show at Wilmette. It seems but a moment ago that they kissed the children good-by and promised to bring them some candy."

Fellow Workers Help.
She did not cry. She stared past the visitor into the night. The children had gone. Helena was putting them to bed.

On the parlor table were heaped boxes of candy and fruits that kindly neighbors had brought in earlier in the day. There was also an envelope with the stamp of the Baltimore and Ohio railroad.

This had contained a check for $100, representing a collection taken up among Tanner's fellow employees to relieve the immediate wants of the grandmother and the three orphans. So far as known Tanner had little money in the bank and no insurance.

Flagman a Hero.

Over at the Evanston General hospital was another party to the tragedy—John Miller, flagman, who, if he ever recovers, will find that he is no longer an obscure crossing watchman, but a hero.

Miller, 52 years old, married and with three children living at 512 Oakdale avenue, Glencoe, was a laborer at odd jobs until four years ago, when he became flagman for the Chicago and Northwestern.

Hundreds of automobilists and pedestrians passed by his humble shanty daily at Gage street crossing and paid little attention to the man with the cotton flag. But when the hour came Monday night Miller proved himself the most.

Lucid Intervals Tragic.

A reporter visited Miller, but could gain little from him. He is lucid only at intervals. Most of the time he tosses about, crying:

"My God, why couldn't I save them? And 'How is my little baby?'"

He refers to his youngest child, a girl, 8 months old.

It was Miller's condition that led to the postponing of the inquest from yesterday until Oct. 10. All witnesses were examined, but the testimony was substantially the same as the account of the tragedy published in THE TRIBUNE.

The funeral of Mr. and Mrs. Tanner will be held tomorrow afternoon from the home, with burial at Memorial Park cemetery.

Admirers of Anna Held

Bay Effects She Left

New York, Sept. 2.—[Special.]—Friends and admirers of the late Anna Held said they could almost see the little actress at the Waldorf this morning when $20,000 worth of her personal and stage effects were put on sale together with her jewelry, valued at $150,000. The sale was to close the estate. The largest buyer was Liana Carrera, daughter of Anna Held, who purchased all her mother's lingerie and her scrapbook.

$2,899,429 LEFT IN WILSON FUND VOTED FOR WAR

Figures on $50,000,000
Show Great Variety of Projects.

Washington, D. C., Sept. 2.—Of the $50,000,000 war fund granted to President Wilson last year by congress for his discretionary use $2,899,429 remained on Aug. 5 last, the house appropriations committee was informed today in a report from the president.

Proceeding the receipt of the statement from the White House the committee had recommended the adoption of a resolution calling for an itemized statement of expenditures made from both the $50,000,000 fund and the $100,000,000 appropriation given the president at the outbreak of the war. Later, however, when Chairman Good of the appropriations committee called attention of the house to the report he said that a final accounting was expected later regarding the $100,000,000 fund.

Put to Many Uses.
More than a score of governmental departments and agencies received money from the $50,000,000 fund, the gross allotments aggregating more than $57,000,000, of which $10,000,000 was reimbursed, apparently being temporary allowances.

Many of the important expenditures have been made known in the past. The largest amount went to the state department. It received $13,393,245, of which $4,000,000 was for the trans-Siberian and Chinese Eastern railways.

Under the date of Feb. 14 last, Bernard M. Baruch was listed for $150,000, "to the peace conference"; the state department, on last Dec. 15, $500,000, "for American commission to negotiate peace"; and four days later the state department got $100,000 for preparation for the conference, and on Dec. 30 it received $50,000 for "political intelligence service" at the conference.

Further Peace Expenses.
Brig. Gen. Churchill of the military intelligence bureau and his party to the conference were listed for an allotment of $30,000. Another allotment for the conference was dated last Feb. 15 and was for $750,000 for "expenses peace commission."

Net allotments of more than $1,000,000 were made as follows: Allen property custodian, $1,071,451; committee public information, $2,050,000; grain corporation, $5,000,000; sugar equalization board, $5,000,000; war trade board, $1,150,000; shipping board, $2,500,743.

The war trade board, which received $4,000,000 for its trade bureau for improving economic conditions in Russia, was listed as having returned $4,025,000.

Used for Entertainment.
Two items of entertainment, incurred for foreign guests, also were included in the statement, there being $13,000 allotted for such purpose for Sir Eric Geddes and his party, and $10,000 for Prince Axel of Denmark and his party.

BATT, COMMUNE CHIEF, JAILED ON SEDITION CHARGE

Dennis E. Batt, organizer of the Communist party of America, an ultra-radical group now in convention in "Smoking institute," 1221 Blue Island avenue, was taken to central police station yesterday afternoon on a warrant charging violation of the new Illinois sedition law. He will be arraigned at Harrison street station this morning.

Batt's specific offense is alleged to have been a revolutionary speech at the West Side auditorium, Racine and Taylor, a week ago. The penalty on conviction is from one to ten years in the penitentiary.

Batt's case will constitute the first to be brought under the state legislation, the constitutionality of which is challenged by many attorneys.

None of the three Socialist conventions at present meeting in the city took much action yesterday.

of attempting to obstruct interstate commerce by strikes or lockouts would be subject to a maximum penalty of $500 fine and six-months imprisonment.

The measure provides that wages shall be determined with due consideration for the wages paid for similar kinds of work in other industries, the cost of living, the hazards of employment, the training and skill required, the degree of responsibility, and the character and regularity of employment.

Where Excess Profits May Go.
One-half of the railroad earnings in excess of a fair return on the property calculation is to be devoted to these purposes:

The promotion of invention and research to ameliorate the conditions of labor and to lessen the hazards of employment.

To extend and improve hospital relief.

To supplement existing systems of insurance and pensions.

To afford opportunity for technical education of employees.

To establish a system of profit sharing by employees.

The other half is to be used as a fund for the purchase of equipment to be leased to the railroads, or to be loaned to carriers unable to provide themselves with proper equipment and facilities upon reasonable securities.

The board of transportation is charged with the duty of preparing a plan consolidating the railroads into not less than 20 nor more than 35 systems. This plan must receive the approval of the interstate commerce commission.

Hopes Shipmen Will Stick.
Partial returns from the strike vote now in progress among the railroad shipmen indicate, union officials said today, that the men will accept the advice of their officers and leave the matter of a strike in their hands, pending the result of governmental efforts to reduce the cost of living. This was the day originally set for a strike.

Strike at Cumberland.
Cumberland, Md., Sept. 2.—All the Baltimore and Ohio railroad shipmen here, including machinists, boiler makers, sheet metal workers, electrical workers, blacksmiths, car repairmen, and foremen, about 1,800 in all, struck today.

Quits at Lincoln.
Lincoln, Neb., Sept. 2.—A majority of the shipmen at the shops of the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy at Havlock walked out today. The woodworkers and electricians remained at work. No notice that the men were to strike was given the company.

Railroad Telegraphers Meet.
St. Louis, Mo., Sept. 2.—Revision of rules and wages affecting railroad telegraphers was discussed today at the conference of general chairmen of the Order of Railroad Telegraphers here.

AIR LINER SAILS FROM CLEVELAND THIS MORNING

BY MORROW KRUM.
Cleveland, O., Sept. 2.—[Special.]—It ceases to be exclusive you know, when the passenger list is increased from three to twelve. But when the giant Lawson "air liner" hops off for New York City tomorrow morning there will be about twelve passengers and five of the crew.

Two girls, said to be prominent members of New Orleans society, pleaded with Skipper Lawson for an hour today to be allowed to make the trip. Finally Mr. Lawson said he thought he would take them. The other passengers are Cleveland business men and correspondents.

The "air liner" was refilled into the Glenn A. Martin company's hangar today and the propellers were recovered with linen. Rain drops on the Sunday flight had worn through the linen down to the wood.

Curious thing, that propeller. Covered with tightly stretched canvas and many coats of varnish, spins around at 1,700 revolutions a minute; tiny rain drops wear through the canvas clear down to wood. Little things count in this flying business.

Important Change in Prices of Grand Opera

THE cost and expense of producing the repertoire of Grand Opera this season is so very high that the Association has found it imperative to seek means for reimbursement through larger attendance and increase in the prices of admission.

In line with every other business the cost of labor and materials has increased from 50% to 450%. And people do not realize that it takes enormous quantities of materials such as canvas, lumber, colors, electrical equipment, etc., as well as a great organization working a whole year, to produce ten weeks of Opera.

It is true the coming season of the Chicago Opera Association will be the greatest in the history of grand opera in this or any other country and its repertoire and roster of artists and conductors and scenic artists and its productions will be unparalleled. The Association feels that Chicago stands for and demands only the best and will be satisfied with nothing less; therefore, notwithstanding the increased costs, the Association has not stopped at expense to insure for its patrons and supporters a season unmatched as to artists and repertoire and productions. There will be many interesting new operas and revivals such as:

FRENCH
New
Aphrodite
Love for the Three Oranges
Madame Chrysanthe

ITALIAN
New
La Nave
Jaquerie
Il Tabarro, Suor Angelica, Gianni Schicchi

Revivals
Herodiade
Pelleas and Melisande
ENGLISH
New
Rip Van Winkle

Revivals
The Jewess
Norma
L'Amore del tre Re
Nabucco

Revivals
The Masked Ball
Don Giovanni
Don Pasquale
Zaza

in addition to the usual repertoire.

The roster of artists contains many new members who are world renowned and who, it is believed, will win instant and enthusiastic approval; among them being:

SOPRANOS
Evelyn Herbert
Dorothy Jordan
Borghild Langgaard
Nina Morgana

TENORS
Alessandro Bonel
Edward Johnson
Herman Jadowker
Tito Schipa

BARITONES
Carlo Galeffi
Titta Ruffo

Of course, the old favorites will be here, too—Gall, Galli Curci, Garden, Raissa, Macbeth, Miura, Dolci, Fontaine, Lamont, Baklanoff, Dufuranne, Maguenat, Rimini. The Conductors will be:

Gino Marinuzzi, the new Principal Conductor
Teofilo De Angelis, Italian Repertoire
Marcel Charlier, French Repertoire
Louis Hasselmann, French Repertoire

The productions will be designed and staged by exceptional Russian, Dutch and American artists, including Boris Anisfeld, Herman Rosse, Peter J. Doughtan, Norman-Bel Geddes, Robert Edmund Jones

and will be under the direction of the new Stage Manager, Mr. Jules Speck.

There will also be new Ballets:

"The Birthday of the Infanta"

by John Alden Carpenter

Saged and directed by Adolph Bolm

The Corps de Ballet will be under the personal direction of Pavley and Oukrain-sky who are rearranging and modernizing the ballets of Grand Opera repertoire.

The Association will face a deficit, even though every box and every seat should be sold for the entire season; and if grand opera is to endure in Chicago, the public must, by becoming subscribers and by their attendance, manifest its desire and its appreciation and, at least in some measure, help reduce the ever increasing annual deficit.

There are still a considerable number of boxes unsold, and a large number of seats unsubscribed for.

It has been decided to close all right to subscribe for seats at the present prices on October 18, 1919, and for boxes on October 21, 1919. Accordingly, beginning October 20, 1919, the prices for seats, whether by subscription or single seat sales, will be as follows, and without discount.

FRANCE COUNTS
COST OF WAR IN
TREATY DEBATE26% of Troops Are Lost;
57% Under 31 Killed,
Chamber Told.

PARIS, Sept. 2.—Capt. Andre Tardieu, speaking for the government during the debate in the chamber of deputies this afternoon on ratification of the German peace treaty, said war had constituted 26 per cent of the men mobilized. Fifty-seven per cent of all men with the colors under 31 years were killed.

"The peace obtained by the French delegation is a peace which guarantees solidarity and justice, in accordance with the principles for which our soldiers died," Capt. Tardieu declared.

"Allies Entitled to Voice."
"France did not win the war alone and therefore could not make peace alone," he continued. "It was an allied victory; thus it should be an allied peace."

Concerning the Rhine frontier, Capt. Tardieu said that the Anglo-Franco-American treaty would safeguard France from future aggression. American and Great Britain, he asserted, had not advocated occupation of the Rhine for five years, but the French proposal for a fifteen year occupation prevailed.

Capt. Tardieu expressed surprise that the members of the right were criticizing the treaty because the terms were too mild towards Germany, and members of the left because they were too severe.

"France Ample Guarded."
In closing he said that the treaty gave France all the necessary guarantees, especially the Anglo-Franco-American conventions, to place Germany in such a military and economic position that France need have no fear of a recurrence of aggression on the part of Germany.

Louis Barthou, former premier and chairman of the peace ratification committee, declared that the treaty was sufficient and obscure. He reminded Premier Clemenceau with having kept the parliamentary committee in ignorance of the negotiations.

"You rendered great services during the war, but you did not win the war alone," M. Barthou asked.

Refers to United States Senate.
He thought that former Premiers Brand, Ribot, and Viviani, who held that important office in the course of the war, should have been consulted. He criticized M. Clemenceau for placing the chamber before an accomplished fact, where it must either reject wholly or approve unconditionally. The French chamber, he pointed out, unlike the United States senate, was not empowered to propose amendments to the treaty.

Obstruction to the discussion began this afternoon. When the chamber was voting an appropriation of 3,000,000 francs for the purchase of houses for the devastated regions, the Socialists insisted upon a ballot being taken, instead of a standing vote, and an hour and a half was lost, the debate on the treaty opening at 4:30.

It is expected in official circles that the chamber will vote on the treaty Saturday, according to Marcel Hutin in the Echo de Paris.

Big Leaders to Speak.
Louis Klotz, minister of finance, probably will speak Thursday on the financial clauses.

Rene Viviani, former premier and president of the treaty committee, will make an address on Friday and Premier Clemenceau will wind up the debate.

CALLED ASSASSIN

Former Hungarian Premier Is Charged with Part in Tisza's
Murder.Count Karolyi
Hungarian statesman and diplomat

BERLIN, Sept. 1.—Delayed.—[By the Associated Press.]—Baron Radetzky, brother-in-law of former Premier Count Stephen Tisza, has filed charges with the police at Budapest against Count Michael Karolyi, also a former premier, alleging that Count Karolyi agitated for the murder of Count Tisza and participated in the crime, according to a Budapest dispatch to the Tages Zeitung.

Bela Szmato, people's commissary for military affairs during the soviet regime in Hungary, and brother of the late people's commissary, Tibor Szmato, is reported to have been arrested near Lake Platten, and it is said a huge sum of money belonging to the Austro-Hungarian bank was found in his possession.

PALMER CALLED
PRO-GERMAN BY
FREILINGHUYSEN

Washington, D. C., Sept. 3.—Sharp criticism in the senate today by Senator Freylinghuyesen, Republican, New Jersey, of Attorney General Palmer drew a vigorous defense of Mr. Palmer from Senators Underwood, Alabama, and Williams, Mississippi, Democrats.

The New Jersey senator, replying to accusations made against him by Mr. Palmer in a recent statement, assailed Mr. Palmer's administration of the alien property custodian's office and flatly charged him with having "pro-German sympathies before the entrance of this country into the war, declaring he had 'received' German agents in his own house."

In defense of Mr. Palmer, Senator Underwood declared Senator Freylinghuyesen had "assaulted and misrepresented" the attorney general and had deceived the senate and the public. There is no question of Mr. Palmer's loyalty, Senator Underwood declared, adding that charges against him had emanated from German interests opposing disposition of German property seized.

CARSON PIRIE SCOTT &amp; Co

Certain of the Most Distinctive
Fall Fashions for Women

No matter what the decision of expenditure may be, here are assortments that seem to have anticipated most happily practically each personal plan.

Suits at $47.50 to $150

Afford a variedness of choice in all the fabrics, decorations, colors, lines new this autumn.

Vellouise is the fabric in which the suit at left, first at top, is developed. The collar is nutria. $150.

Frocks of Rich Satin

At $55 one chooses the frock sketched first at the right. A series of folds makes an entirely new hip yoke.

From $45 to $75 are charming new frocks of plain satin beaded, embroidered in flat motifs, with emphasizing touches of color.

At $115 the frock second at the right, brown with geranium, black with old blue. Fourth Floor, North.

Blouses Are Colorful

Fashion, insistent this year upon color, selects blouses as a medium of expression most successfully.

At $12.75 and $18.75

At $12.75 there is a delightful blouse of beige Georgette crepe with worsted rings in rose and gold and purple. Second at left.

And another of navy blue with a tiny pleated vestee of Pompeian red. First at left, is also $12.75.

At $18.75 the cossack blouse (last at the left) parti-colored, blue with flamingo, spruce green or beige. Fourth Floor, North.

Separate Skirts Newest
of Wool Plaids

Their fashion importance is paramount this season.

And these assortments bring every version of the new mode, which decrees fullness without flare, pleats that hang straight and slim.

The skirt pictured first at the right is $17.50. The other is $25. Still others, $13.50 to $47.50. Fourth Floor, East.

We have a beautiful assortment of trimmings suitable for these hats. Expert milliners will assist you in your selections.

Untrimmed Millinery, Fifth Floor.

The New Fall
Suits

DISPLAYS just now are most interesting, because, by going into the subject just a little earlier than usual, we were able to ensure a wider selection than was thought possible.

The newer styles are delightful. New materials and new features add interest.

Skirts do not seem any fuller, and most of them are plain. Coats vary in length, so much so that every woman may choose the length she can wear best and still feel that she is up to the very last minute. There is a decided tendency toward semi-fitted coats, and the ripple at the bottom and the sides of the coat is the new feature.

Collars follow coat-lengths in the matter of individual preference, while colors, though yielding to small checks in many instances, are mostly plain.

The Autumn fabrics are particularly attractive. Velour, duvet de laine, silverstone, duvetyn, peach-bloom, jersey silverstone are among the most favored.

There Is a Decided
Becomingness in These Things for Young Women

THEY have just the right amount of jauntiness about them to make them distinctive. They are smart in line, color and fabric. And in every way they typify the sort of clothes that a young woman looks her best in.

Misses' Suits. The Suit sketched is frost glow, Opposom collar, brown, reindeer, taupe and plum. $125.

Other Suits are to be had in peach-bloom, Yolama, chameleon cord, tinsel-tone twill, duvet superior, $40 to $265.

Misses' Coats. The Coat, left, is Normandy cloth, fur collar, full fancy lining. $75. The Coat, right, is to be had in fortuna, bokhara or peach bloom, beaver collar and cuffs. Beautiful fancy lining. $195.

Other Coats of whippet cloth, tinsel-tone, evora, duvetyn, normandy, silverstone and chameleon cord. Prices $27.50 to $450.

Misses' Frocks. Frock sketched is of navy poret twill. Its taffeta girdle is effectively embroidered in colored yarn. $75.

Other Wool Frocks of silk duvetyn, tricotine, serge and velour, $25 up. Silk Frocks in taffeta, crepe meteor, Charmeuse and Georgette, $35 up.

Misses' Section, North Room, Westman.

Misses' Skirts. Of the soft but sturdy peach bloom is the Skirt sketched, and it is to be had in reindeer, Braxillen or dragonfly shades. $37.50.

Other Skirts are to be had in tricotine, velour, serge, mixture, plaids, checks and wools. $7.50 to $37.50.

Misses' Blouses. It is from a soft rajah silk that the Blouse sketched has been fashioned—and it will tub beautifully. Price $10.

Other Blouses are dimity-striped and checked, pongee, plain and embroidered. Smocks and middies.

Daddy Doesn't
Want Him Dressed Like a Baby
But Like a Real Boy

THAT is why small trousers have been invented—to incase tiny legs and give them a manly semblance.

And our small-trouser suits are the pride of both Dad and Son even when Son is scarcely big enough to peep over the rim of his Second Birthday.

His First Trouser Suits

Made in far off Nippon, come little silken Trouser Suits, tubable and yet smart and tailored. Of natural pongee are the collars, cuff and trousers of the suit sketched above—with white silk blouse with the many stylish little plaits, $7.75.

With pongee trousers and white blouse is the suit sketched left, $8.75. Of all white silk, hand embroidered in delph blue, is the Suit sketched right, $9.50.

Sizes 2, 3 and 4 years.

Flannelet Pajamas and Nightpants

These are for little girls as well as for little boys. In pink or blue stripes, the Pajamas are $1.75, sizes 6 to 12 years; the Nightpants are $1, sizes 2 to 12 years.

Romper that Have Character

The one sketched left is imported from Japan—hand embroidered in delph blue on natural pongee, $5.50—sizes 2 to 4. The other is a specially priced gingham, pink or blue striped, $1.95.

Chill Fall Mornings Mean Cozy
Bath Robes

And we have them for your Tiny Tads, warm, soft, woolly ones, ribbon trimmed and at $2.95, sketched right; and plain, $1.95, sketched left. Sizes 2 to 6 yrs.

Boys' Wash Suits

There is a sturdiness to these suits that will be appreciated if "he" is one of those rambunctious youngsters that we read about in "Tom Sawyer" and "Penrod." The suit sketched left is Devonshire cloth, blue, tan, gray, $2.95. Sizes 2 1/2 to 8 yrs.

Juniata Floor, the Fourth.

AN AMERICAN CONFERENCE.
The president's plan for an authoritative conference on a program for "bettering the relations of capital and labor and putting the whole question of wages upon another footing" promises important results. If it be kept free from politics and placed, as we trust it will be, on a high plane of broad-minded Americanism, the conference should be able to assist our industrial evolution along constructive lines for the common welfare. We are all, wise labor leaders and capitalists and general public, aware of destructive influences at work throughout the country. The best way to defeat them is not merely to preach against them, but to meet them with a vigorous offensive, in which sane labor and right-minded capital and the most powerful force of all, the main body of citizenship, can heartily join. The radical, with his patent device or his tear-down temper, should be swept away by a practical constructive movement with the nation behind it.

It is true that imported radicalism is in the air; that labor shows signs of unrest and unrestraint where it has been infected by this radicalism. But it is happily also true that the spirit of American brotherhood which arises from American principles of liberty and American habits of self-restraint and American faith in peaceful evolution is blowing the air clearer day by day. In this fresher, brighter air, conservative labor and liberal capital already are moving toward each other, are getting together for mutual help and progress, and this fine expression of the American spirit, we feel sure, can be given added momentum and broader sweep by such a conference as the president proposes.

No one who has given serious thought to the problems of industrial harmony will expect utopian results from the conference. No such one will fail to realize that the conference has one of the most difficult tasks before it ever imposed upon a public body. But these problems are before us and we cannot escape them by shutting our eyes or turning our backs upon them. It is our duty to look them fairly in the face and deal with them in the American way.

What is the American way? It is the way of common sense, of rational compromise among different interests and points of view, of loyal cooperation along lines agreed upon, of faith in ourselves and in one another, and therefore, above all, faith in our country and what it assures us of broadening justice and broadening progress.

Seated the sane, practical, patriotic leaders of organized labor, who were a tower of strength to our country during the war, at the counsel table with experienced, far-sighted, and equally patriotic directors of our industry, and something is going to be worked out for the substantial benefit of the wage earner and his employer and the whole people; something we can all rally around; something which will make us more secure than ever of our prosperity, more confident of progress, prouder than ever of being Americans.

When war came to us, labor and capital, the brain and brawn, and best of all, the heart of America, rose to the inspiration of a great task. We have a still greater and quite as inspiring task before us now in the evolution of industrial peace and the safe broadening of the bases of our democracy. THE TRIBUNE, for one, faces the future in the confidence that the American will triumph over all difficulties and that American capital and labor, energy, character, and directing genius in closer union are marching forward to a better day.

to agree on the best features of the best measures now proposed. Failure to do so will be interpreted as a disinclination to redeem the Republican pledge.

THE OLD MEXICAN STORY.
Carranza is swift to take advantage of the fact that the human race leaps to the aid of the oppressed; he quickly elects to be the under dog. Intelligent peoples have heard much of this kind of walling in the last four years. It is not original with Carranza. He only is diligently improving a process devised by Wilhelm.

If our memory serves us properly, it was an adroit citizen of Baghdad who, seeking to inflict injury upon another and more substantial citizen, attacked and beat him right lustily; and when his victim, recovering from his astonishment, must surely have taken a terrible revenge, he fell to the ground, pulling the victim atop of him, screaming at the top of his voice for the police. Thus his victim received not only a drubbing but imprisonment as well.

Having indulged the murder and robbery of American citizens for the last six years, Carranza now tries to put himself in the position of victim and screams vigorously for help.

It is not pleasant to relate that this propaganda has gained a certain amount of currency in the United States. Just as behind the mask of genial burglar there clanked the military of Prussian Junkerdom, behind the benign and patriarchal whisks of Carranza there lurks the Mexican anarchy.

Four years ago the general burgher propaganda was being circulated broadcast and it was not lacking in believers. Now the benign and patriarchal Carranza, oppressed by the oil magnates, is the subject of the propaganda; and it is being swallowed whole.

It is the old story over again. Carranza defends himself by accusing the United States; tries to shift the crime of murder from assault to victim. In the rest of his four suggested remedies Carranza proposes reciprocal policing of the border. His humor is delicious. At least on one occasion when an American expedition went into Mexico it was to protect Carranza's own soldiers from the bandit Vela. Carranza can't even police the City of Mexico.

In the second he expresses the hope that new laws will allow compensation for damage to the property of foreigners. In other words, Americans pursuing their callings in Mexico do so under the doctrine of caveat emptor—let the purchaser beware.

In the third he asserts that the diligence with which the Mexican government is punishing violators of life and property rights is significant. Evidence of such diligence is most insignificant.

In the fourth and last he utters the underlying principle of his propaganda: that Mexico cannot sacrifice its necessities "simply to satisfy the demands of 'oil interests'."

We have no doubt that the oil interests—which means the interests of American investors, workmen, shippers, men, women, and children—are making of hands. We believe they are demands for legal protection for their lives, their properties, their families, and their homes. It seems a fair demand. But it gets nothing.

The "oil interests" are, by great effort, taking out of the ground a commodity vital to the operation of American—and, for that matter, world—machinery. This includes everything from a factory employing thousands to a farm wagon whose hubs cannot go without grease. The "oil interests" did not wrench their lands from "sacrificing Mexico," but digged out them and developed them, producing wealth which is none had been produced and creating prosperity out of a soil which for centuries had lain in neglect.

A LINE O' TYPE OR TWO.
"Lord, what fools these mortals be."
THEY say the lion and the lizard keep the courts where What's-his-name gloried and drank deep. But yesterday we observed, in the celebrated bar of the Palmer house, a pair of girls perched on stools, giggling over ice-cream sodas. O temporal! O Khayyam!

STRANGE HEALTH METHODS.
CHILD died of diphtheria in Richmond, Ind. The local papers carried this item:
"Funeral services will be held from the home Saturday afternoon at 3 p. m. Services will be public, as the house will be carefully disinfected."

In the paragraph above that from which the extract was taken the statement is made that the twin sister who got sick with diphtheria at the same time as did the dead girl "has practically recovered." Inferentially, the sick girl now "practically recovered" still is in the house in which the funeral is to be held.

WISDOM WHILE YOU WAIT.
[From the incomparable Heremian.]
Only once before in history has the entire text of a book been cabled across the Atlantic. That was when the St. James version of the Bible was sent over the submarine telegraph to Abilene.

TO MAKE THE PUNISHMENT FIT THE CRIME.
Sir: Chicago acquaintances—you cannot call them friends—motoring 'thru' Wisconsin mail me a postcard picturing the State Prison at Joliet and add the overworked, threadbare, and conventional "Wish you were here." What would you do in a case like this? I have a good mind to send them a copy of my 4-minute speech in the last Liberty loan.

The Errand of Attorney.
[From the Panama City, Fla., Pilot.]
I take pleasure in announcing that I am now a resident and citizen of Panama City. I have for a long time wanted to live in this beautiful and thriving little city, and have now moved my law office from Panama City to Panama City and am located upstairs in the Gay building, where I shall be pleased to meet my friends and become acquainted with the people of Ray county. My family will join me here as soon as I can make the necessary arrangements for a residence. I will say that my primary and main reason for moving to Panama City is because I know of no more delightful place to live in, and because every citizen here is a booster, and because I have unbounded faith in the future greatness of this city and port. I have come here to make my home and to practice law. I can practice law anywhere where "Old Glory" floats over our continent or insular possessions, but I know of no place in that vast domain which pleases me so well for a home as Panama City. Those desiring my legal services will find me at above address.

GLASS IN HEAD-WRITING, ATTENTION.
Sir: Some time ago I received a communication from a class can write head in this. In discussing war memorials, the Professor of History of Art said: "A fitting memorial for the boys who died in the great war is one that will last forever and at the end of that time be as beautiful as when erected." JAY.

HEART-BREAKING PROBLEM OF CONDUCT.
[From the British Weekly.]
Miss Ray Cooper, the minister's sister, goes to call on Mrs. Arbutnot, a young farmer's wife. She has heard rumors that the Arbutnots are not happy. She goes to the front door and sees Mrs. Arbutnot going upstairs with her handkerchief pressed to her eyes, and hears her sobbing quietly. Mrs. Arbutnot is not aware that Miss Cooper is standing on her doorstep. What should Miss Cooper do?

WANTS BOOK ON DIABETES.
Sir: I am a man 38 years of age, doing a good day's work every day. Have had very little sickness, use tobacco moderately, and never drank liquor to amount to anything. Have a throbbing pulse, plainly visible, in the throat, at collarbone. What is the cause of this, and what should I do for it?

BOY POISONED BY HORNET.
Sir: R. writes: "Why is it that my little brother, who is 8 years old, grows sick and faint after a hornet sting? The poison seems to run all through his body and large blisters break out all over him. What is the reason, and what is a preventive or remedy?"

WANTS HAY FEVER REMEDY.
O. J. W. writes: "I read of a remedy for hay fever some days ago, and the clipping has been mislaid somewhere, and I am unable to locate it. Would you kindly tell about it in 'How to Keep Well,' as all of us 'hay fever' patients are all looking for cures?"

INSURANCE PREMIUMS.
Chicago, Aug. 31.—[Friend of the Soldier.]—Please give me the insurance rates per month on all of the policies at the rate of 25, and for $1,000. I want a couple of years to convert my insurance to a twenty-year endowment or twenty-year payment life policy, would I lose these two years or would they apply on the twenty years? If possible, I am going to have my insurance converted to a twenty-year endowment or payment life policy without any trouble? If so, that is the best plan for me to follow. I only want rates on each $1,000 of insurance, as I may not carry as much as $5,000, and I may carry more.

KNOWS WHEN TO LET GO.
[From the Chicago City Press.]
Viva Lindemann recently sold one of his prize sows from his herd for $1,500, and he has still another valuable sow that is sick.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR.
Sir: I am a man 38 years of age, doing a good day's work every day. Have had very little sickness, use tobacco moderately, and never drank liquor to amount to anything. Have a throbbing pulse, plainly visible, in the throat, at collarbone. What is the cause of this, and what should I do for it?

OUR MEXICAN POLICY
[From the Montgomery Advertiser.]
The early policy of the United States toward Mexico was one of weakness and timidity. It was a policy of appeasement, of compromise, of surrender. It was a policy that allowed Mexico to grow into a great power, a power that was a threat to the United States. It was a policy that was a failure.

Chicago, Aug. 29.—[To the Friend of the People.]—I was in New Jersey in 1908. My husband and I have since been in an engine house since 1911 and does not improve. On this statement from the engine house, may I not claim a divorce and receive my share of the property? Or is a lawyer necessary?

Chicago, Aug. 29.—[To the Friend of the People.]—There is a two-month accumulation of garbage at 4513 Henderson street which almost overflows the receptacle provided for it at the rear of the premises.

GARBAGE HAS BEEN REMOVED.
Chicago, Aug. 29.—[To the Friend of the People.]—There has been no garbage collection here for about four weeks. I have tried to burn out the maggots, but it is a twenty-four hour a day job.

VOICE OF THE PEOPLE
As but limited space can be given letters in this department, writers are confined themselves to 200 or 300 words. Unless they give us their full names and addresses their letters will not be considered. No manuscript will be returned unless the writer sends postage for that purpose.

WE'RE ALL WITH YOU.
Chicago, Aug. 29.—[Editor of the Tribune.]—Business interests of Chicago will do well to consider the recommendation quoted recently in THE TRIBUNE that action should be taken to keep an hour of daylight for Chicago. National authority is not going to give us the hour of extra daylight next summer. Unless we make our own effort as a city to retain it we are going to follow the clock.

STRIKES AND LOST WAGES.
Chicago, Aug. 29.—[Editor of the Tribune.]—Why not bring to the attention of the carpenters, electricians, steamfitters, and the dozens of other labor organizations who are now idle the loss in wages, which can never be made up. The fact that officials of their respective organizations are trying to get more money for them than is paid in any other city is keeping up the costs of necessities and incidentally driving manufacturers to other cities. Why did the General Motors, as an illustration, locate their new factory, which will employ from 8,000 to 10,000 people, in St. Louis instead of Chicago? Surely not on account of the geographical location.

FROM A NEAR CITIZEN.
Chicago, Aug. 29.—[Editor of the Tribune.]—A government of the people, for the people, and by the people will not long smile on the element thereof that long transportation, paralyzes business, and puts out of commission public utilities.

CODE OF SICILY SEALS LIPS IN PARK SHOOTING

Extortion Plot Betrayal
Believed Secret of Assassin Raid.

The grip Sicily keeps upon her children and her children's children, even when they have gone to far off countries, is difficult to break. When months ago two families in Chicago freed themselves from the clutches of Sicilian custom, declared themselves citizens of the United States and called in the law.

They were the Gagliardo brothers, Joe and Michael, who have a whole grocery business at 921 West Randolph street; and the Morici brothers, Augustino and Antonio, in the same business at 922 West Washington street.

Joe told the police of an attempt made by Pietro Montalbano and Joe Morici to extort $1,000. More, they agreed to prosecute. It was the first time since the Black Hand began its operations in Chicago that Sicilians had spoken against their kind. Those matters have been settled in one way only—a shot for a shot—and a shrug of the shoulders for the law.

The Morici and the Gagliardo told yesterday two shotguns roared in Sicilian wrath.

Augustino Morici and his wife's brother, Tony Culicchia, both living at 1011 Washington boulevard, were going through Garfield park in Culicchia's auto. Morici usually drove, but this time Culicchia was at the wheel.

Sicilian Wrath Strikes. Another auto came up behind, drew ahead. A man in the back seat fired six iron slugs from the muzzle of a sawed-off shotgun smashed into Culicchia's back.

The Culicchia car continued, though the driver had fallen across the wheel. A second man in the back seat of the assassin car, evidently believing his companion had missed—because the auto was still going—fired again at Culicchia.

The Culicchia car struck a tree; the driver jumped out and was lost. It was early last February the Gagliardo and Morici joined with the police. Pietro Montalbano, square jawed and ferocious, had gone to John Gagliardo, husband of his cousin, and demanded $1,000.

"Give us $1,000 and live," "Joe Novello sent me," said he. "You know Novello is working for the Morici. They got him paroled. The Morici are going to give him $1,000 to kill you. Give us that amount and live."

It was true Novello was working for the Morici. He had been sentenced to an indeterminate term—one to four years—for shooting a policeman. He was paroled to work in the Rock Island arsenal.

But the Gagliardo refused the $1,000. They went to the Morici. They reached an understanding. The police went looking for the plotters.

Novello came into the Morici plant a few days later. The Morici were out. Montalbano had told Gagliardo Antonio Morici was about to die. And Gagliardo gave the warning. Novello was found in a barrel in the basement of the Morici factory. Montalbano went to the Gagliardo with a knife—and was arrested.

The Grip of Sicily. The police knew these things. They knew, too, Montalbano and Novello had taken his brother-in-law to the Wesley Memorial hospital and demanded an immediate operation to save his life—because the bullets are poisoned.

They asked him: "Was it Montalbano and Novello?" Morici told last February. But yesterday he merely shrugged his shoulders. The grip of Sicily is difficult to break.

Joseph Couteau of Grand Rapids, during the day, was held to the grand jury charged with the murder of Frank O'Connell, 903 Cambridge street.

360,000 START YEAR OF STUDY IN CITY SCHOOLS

Robertson Orders
Windows Opened in All Rooms.

Vacation at an end, Chicago's 360,000 school children yesterday started getting accustomed to school—with windows open, under orders from Health Commissioner John Dill Robertson. "It will prevent disease and safeguard the city's health," Dr. Robertson explained. Three hundred physicians were on hand to examine the pupils, although the city and board of education disagree on who shall pay the expense of medical supervision.

Dr. Robertson said school windows will be kept open until late autumn, although he admitted he expected resistance from mothers' clubs and from some of the 8,000 school teachers who will direct the education for the year.

School Games Revived. The sun shone brightly as Johnny and Mary trudged to school to meet the mates of last year and repeat a summer's adventures. The school-grounds resounded to the noise of revived games.

About 20,000 youngsters "started school" and longed to go home before the day ended. There was a military tinge, too. Cadets who attend Camp Roosevelt arrived at school as at a "formation."

There were fifty-four penny lunch-rooms opened for the children, too, twenty-one of them being new.

Continuation Schools Open. Last year's continuation school found response in larger plans this year, according to Supt. Mortenson. The McClurg school found a loop companion in that opened at 75 West Monroe street under the director of the federal reserve bank. The McClurg school had 200 pupils and sixty appeared at the Federal Reserve school.

More than 20,000 juveniles between the ages of 14 and 16 are employed in the loop district, so figures show, and these must under the new state law spend eight hours a week in school. The continuation schools will permit this.

Oak Park reported a large overflow of pupils, more than 100 in the Oak Park and River Forest high schools being thrust into the assembly room.

The STORE for MEN has everything in correct Fall Apparel for the most discriminating dressers

Knitted Neckwear
Will Be Favored
This Season

Better dressers are showing a decided preference for knitted Cravats.

The scarcity adds to their exclusiveness, but fortunately we have a very representative showing. The crocheted weaves are very attractively priced at $2 to $5, while the Grenadine knits are $3.50 and $4.

Either style demonstrates the trend of correct taste.

Drop-stitched Effects in New Silk Hosiery

This is one of the most attractive of the many styles in fancy silk Hosiery. In black as well as various two-tone color combinations, which add to their distinctiveness.

$1.35 a pair is little to pay for Hosiery that will give as much satisfaction as this in both service and style.

The Kenneth Durward English Ulsters—All-Purpose Coats

Motoring or business, fall or winter, these distinctive Coats command respect.

In spite of the scarcity which makes them especially desirable, we have a varied showing for Fall.

Mixtures and plaids predominate; the models, mostly belted backs, $65 to $95.

Leather Coats For Motoring or Sports Wear

Any season of the year finds these Coats practical for outdoor wear.

Short, three-quarter or full length, some reversible with gabardine on one side, double breasted and full belted.

One of the short-length models is low-priced at $30.

Straw Hat Season Is Over—Now for Fall Hats

According to the laws of custom Fall Hats make their official bow on the first day of September. Unless, of course, the weather man persists in keeping the hot weather turned on. However, it's best to be ready for Autumn weather regardless of the temperature today. Especially when there is such a complete stock of the new smart styles to choose from. A wide variety at $5 and up.

Cooler Days Mean Warmer Underwear

Perhaps it's still a bit early to think of putting away one's Summer Union Suits for a medium weight.

But one can never tell after the first of September what morning will find frost on the ground. It's just as well to be ready. Cotton Union Suits are $3.50, $3.75 and $4.75. Wool mixed Suits are $5, $6.50 and $7.25. Obtainable in different sleeve and leg lengths.

MAYOR'S H. C. L. APPEAL ATTACKS NATIONS' LEAGUE

Also Asks Congress to Defeat Universal Training.

In an appeal to congress to cut down living costs yesterday Mayor Thompson attacked the league of nations as a fanciful contrivance, the adoption of which would submerge the identity of the United States.

The mayor's appeal, which was mailed last night to all representatives elected from Chicago and Illinois senators, calls on congress to reduce taxation, reject the league of nations, provide imprisonment at hard labor for price fixers, place a limited embargo upon exports of foodstuffs and ask that congress go on record without delay against compulsory military training.

Tells of Own Efforts.

After recalling his food shortage warning of April 26, 1917, and calling attention to his appointment of a food commission and the local attempt to reduce living costs by the creation of the bureau of foods, farm products, and markets, the mayor takes up the league of nations.

"Questions which are now before congress for settlement," reads his twelve page printed appeal, "and in which there are elements that menace the peace and welfare of the republic, and which, if enacted into law, will add to the ever increasing cost of living, are the proposals that we submerge the identity of our nation in a fanciful league of nations and that we fasten the curse of militarism upon the people of this country by the institution of compulsory military training."

PLUMB PLAN NOT RULING ARSENAL AT ROCK ISLAND

Washington, D. C., Sept. 2.—(Special.)—Secretary of War Baker took haste today to disclaim any intention to inject any of the principles of the Plumb plan for the nationalization of the railroads into the management of the war department.

The secretary issued a formal statement explaining that the employees of the Rock Island arsenal have not been put in a position of authority with respect to the actual operation of the plant.

"The publication of the correspondence of arsenal employees and the secretary of war has led to widespread misunderstanding of the situation," said Secretary Baker. "The war department has encouraged the formation of committees of its employees in the arsenal, which committees consult freely with the men and act in an advisory capacity to the management. The authority of the management, however, is wholly undiminished."

ing and the establishment of a large standing army.

"Those interests which amassed fabulous wealth out of the misery of mankind during the war are now in the forefront of the movement to involve this nation in all the troubles of the whole world and to fasten upon our people the burdens of a military establishment not unlike that which we so loudly proclaimed we were going to war to fight against."

"By becoming a party to this proposed league, we would transfer from our control the control of a group of nations with which we have otherwise nothing in common, the question of whether in a given situation we should make peace or make war. When reduced to its lowest terms, that is a barefaced proposition to abdicate our sovereignty. The time was in this country when such a proposal would have been considered treason."

Sees Menace of War.

"You were urged to plunge the nation into war because, among other things, it was claimed that we owed a duty to liberty and freedom in general to see to it that small nations composed of homogeneous peoples should have the right to determine for themselves the form of the governments to which they should owe allegiance. After the war was fought out and we had expended blood and treasure in order, as we had been assured, to prevent large and powerful nations from dominating smaller nations, the United States senate was and is confronted with a proposal that we voluntarily associate ourselves in a league of nations, one of the fundamental obligations of which is to protect the territorial integrity of the signatory powers.

"I am opposed to any scheme whereby the power of this great republic, dedicated as it is to the right of self-government, could be called upon by our then allies in the league of nations to put the free men of this nation on the battlefields of the old world to crush the aspiration of human beings over there for the rights which we enjoy over here. In my opinion the man who would urge this is not a true American, and is not fit for the citizenship which he enjoys in this land of the free, much less for an important public office."

Wants Production Increased.

Instead of military training the mayor declared that it would be far wiser for congress to provide "recognition and emoluments as an incentive to the American youth to become expert in the arts of production instead of the tragedy of destruction."

"Let us give honor," continues the mayor's appeal, "to those who become expert in the operation of the tractor, the cultivator, or the harvesting machine, as well as giving medals for efficiency in handling the machine gun, poison gas, and the bayonet, thus fulfilling the prophecy that 'they shall beat their swords into plowshares and their spears into pruning hooks; nation shall not lift up sword against nation, neither shall they learn war any more.'"

Presents His Solution.

After comparing the pre-war net incomes of a hundred corporations with their incomes in 1916, 1917, and 1918 to show that the war made the poorer and the rich richer, the mayor concludes with the following recommendations which he says will restore industrial and economic conditions to normal:

1. Abolish all of the irritating taxation which is now levied upon the consumption of the necessities of life and in lieu thereof conscript all the excess war profits for the payment of interest on our war bonds and for the establishment of a sinking fund to pay the principal of the debt at maturity.

Nothing else which can be conceived will discourage war like the removal of its commercial features by making it impossible to profit out of war.

"2. Enact legislation providing imprisonment at hard labor for those who conspire to fix the price of foodstuffs, or who profiteer in the necessities of life. This should apply with no exception to every person who produces, transports, or deals in such merchandise.

"3. Reject the proposal to transfer our sovereignty to a league of nations and return without delay to the policy of unadulterated Americanism as exemplified in the Monroe doctrine and the international policy of this nation established at its birth and maintained up to the present administration.

"4. Disclaim without delay the proposal to establish militarism in this republic through compulsory military training and the maintenance of a huge standing army. Militarism and democracy cannot both thrive in the same nation.

"5. Place a limited embargo upon the exportation of foodstuffs out of this country, so as to make sure that the American people will have first call on American food supplies. A fundamental necessity in reducing the high cost of living is to insure a sufficient supply in our home markets to meet the demand."

U. S. HOLDS MORE SUGAR HERE AS CURB ON PRICES

Grand Jury's First Task to Be Survey of Chicago Market.

One hundred and twenty tons of sugar have been placed under control of United States agents in Chicago to insure the city against continued high prices, guard against the predicted sugar "famine" and add another check against profiteers.

Government supervision of the four sugar cars, which are in addition to the car sold recently by deputy marshals and the 60,000 pounds recently seized and awaiting a court sale order, was admitted last night by District Attorney Byrne, who announced the government intends to see no speculation occurs while cars of food are on Chicago side tracks.

Seeks Curb on Prices.
"These four cars have not been seized in the exact sense of the word," he said. "I cannot yet say they will be sold direct by government agents. But they are under government supervision and will remain so until assurances are given the sugar will be sold at the retail price set by Uncle Sam. No more sugar is to come into Chicago in carloads and be juggled by speculators until the retail price is shot above any just basis."

The sugar situation will demand the initial attention of the newly impaneled federal grand jury. A survey of the Chicago market is to be made and dealers summoned.

New Food Sale Opens Today.

With the reopening today of forty-eight postal stations for the continued sale of surplus army food, the city's high cost clouds are due for another silver retouching. Gen. Leroy T. Steward, superintendent of postal deliveries, who has been handling details of the government's bargain sale, announced his clerks will be ready this morning to receive orders for fifty-three food items in addition to the list sold two weeks ago.

Unlike the first sale, this one will continue until the entire government allotment is exhausted. The sale will last months, according to postal authorities.

"There will be plenty of time for every one who cares to take advantage of this sale," declared Gen. Steward. "Complete lists of the goods to be sold have been sent to the stations."

New Articles On Sale.

Here are the articles in tomorrow's postal sale which were not on the original government food list:

BACON, six twelve pound cans to the case, weighing 102 pounds with case, $24.90; per can, $4.15.
ROAST BEEF, forty-eight No. 1 cans in case, weighing sixty pounds, $13.44; per can, $2.78.
FLOUR in 100 pound sacks; corn, $4.25; corn starch, $4; graham, $3.80; rye, ninety-eight pound sack, $3.75.
PEACHES, fifty pound case, $6.50.
PRUNES, fifty pound sack, $4.50.
SWEET POTATOES, twenty-four No. 2 cans to a case, $1.68; per can, 7 cents.
BEEF, CHICKEN, CLAM CHOWDER, MOCK TURTLE, OXTAIL, TOMATO, AND VEGETABLE SOUPS, from $7.52 per case of twenty-four quart cans of chicken to $3.26 per case of forty-eight No. 1 cans of oxtail.
TOMATOES, from 8 to 23 cents can.

FIRST CHICAGO PLANT CLOSED AS SMOKE NUISANCE

Fires Drawn, Guard Put in Factory by Robertson.

Health Commissioner Robertson's appeals for abatement of the smoke nuisance gave way to police action yesterday afternoon. By order of the commissioner the fires under the boilers at the Steiner-Lee Dye works, 823-35 East Thirty-ninth street, were put out and a policeman was stationed at the plant.

"This plant has been a smoke nuisance for ten years," said Dr. Robertson. "I have had nine complaints in the last month from residents of the district who have been unable to sleep because of the soot and smoke."

Gave Twenty-four Hour Notice.

"I gave the concern twenty-four hours' notice last Saturday, but this morning the smoke stack emitted dense black smoke for twenty-two minutes."

Dr. E. Vernon Hill of the sanitary bureau and Frank W. Chambers, deputy smoke inspector, visited the plant at 5 o'clock in the afternoon. After drawing the fires the policeman was left on guard.

"I think I can convince the health commissioner I have not been an intentional violator," said Mr. Steiner last night. "I hired a young man just out of the army, who did not know much about the boilers, and I did not like to discharge him under the circumstances."

More Plants Periled.

This is the first instance of the closing of a plant as a nuisance by a Chicago health commissioner, but there will be more closures, Dr. Robertson says, if warnings to abate smoke are not heeded.

Demos, Back from Capital, Sanguine on Thrace Edict

Paul Demos, president of the American Association of the Greek Community of Chicago, and secretary of the executive committee of the national congress of the Friends of Greece, arrived home yesterday from Washington, sanguine as to the action that may be expected with regard to Grecian Thrace from the president and the senate committee on foreign affairs.

Great Lakes Swimmer Killed by Heavy Sea

Waukegan, Ill., Sept. 2.—Michael Spitzberger, machinist's mate in the aviation unit, Great Lakes, was killed this afternoon while swimming. He had dived off the breakwater and the high running hurled him against the piling with great force. Other bathers saw the accident, but Spitzberger sank before they could reach the place, and his body has not been recovered.

What's stylish for fall?

JUST about one year ago, the stylish thing with young men was "olive drab;" the "Navy blue;" a drive at "Fritz;" a shot at a "sub."

Now "the boys" are back in civil life; they want all the good style they can get; we have it for them; here's information about the newest ideas for fall.

Belted suits are here in new designs and variations.

Yokes, plaits, slanting, vertical, and crescent pockets are all lively touches.

Double-breasted suits are the favorites; in one-, two-, and three-button models; some with belts; some without belts.

Coats are a little longer; waists are a little higher; natural shoulders, higher and wider lapels, giving the wiry, deep-lunged, athletic look that the young men want.

Now about price and quality; all clothes cost good money; you'd better be sure to get quality equal to the price. You can get it in our clothes; all-wool, careful tailoring; guaranteed to satisfy—money back if they don't.

YARDS STOCKMEN FACE INQUIRY BY U. S. GRAND JURY

Panel to Sift Charges That Cattle Shippers Are
"Swindled."

The federal grand jury, sworn in yesterday and charged with the direct prosecution of Chicago food profiteers and liquor law violators, will make an immediate inquiry into the alleged swindling of cattle shippers by live stock commission men operating in the stock yards.

Investigation of the prices charged shippers for feeding cattle en route to market may lead to a general exposure of the entire system used by the Chicago packers, according to the federal authorities, and bring about criminal hearings not anticipated in the regular list of grand jury proceedings.

Facts concerning the alleged overcharging of shippers by the commission men will be brought before the jury early in its session. It was announced yesterday by District Attorney Clyne and immediate action asked.

Face Huge Food Inquiry.
A complete survey of the Chicago food situation, from sugar and potatoes to coffee and cold storage goods, is the task facing the jury in addition to hearing evidence against violators of the liquor laws and alleged profiteers already arrested by federal agents.

The jury will be asked to look into the matter of commission men's feed prices at once, said Mr. Clyne. "It is charged unreasonable profits have been taken. Witnesses probably will be called for the live stock inquiry Wednesday or Thursday."

"After the jury has gone thoroughly

CHARTERS LOST BY 24 ILLINOIS MINERS' LOCALS

Springfield, Ill., Sept. 2.—Charters of twenty-four locals of the United Mine Workers in Illinois have been revoked for insubordination in regard to a strike, Frank Farrington, state president, announced today.

Collinsville, Ill., Sept. 2.—Frank J. Hayes, president of the United Mine Workers of America, was automatically expelled from the union by the action yesterday of Frank Farrington, state president, in revoking charters of twenty-four locals. It was declared at a meeting of insurgents here today. Hayes was elected to the presidency of the union while a member of the Collinsville local. That local was among the twenty-four expelled by Farrington today.

into the Chicago sugar situation, the potato and coffee markets will receive direct attention. Then the methods used and prices fixed by cold storage dealers will be taken up, with a view to straightening out practically the entire food program of the city."

Short Shift for Liquor.
Short work will be made of contraband liquor dealers, according to the district attorney.

"We need no additional information against the liquor men," he declared. "These cases are practically complete. Liquor men will be brought before the grand jury as soon as the food inquiry has been disposed of. There may be additional food and liquor seizures as we go along. It is safe to say liquor dealers will be brought in of whom the public knows nothing as yet."

Mr. Clyne declined to discuss the promised prosecution of Chicago packers, other than stating the suit filed three years ago, in which the Cudahy Packing company was accused of filing false claims against railroad companies, would be reopened. It is understood the books of the Cudahy company have been called for and witnesses will be summoned as part of this inquiry.

SMALL CHICAGO PACKER AVERSE TO U. S. LICENSE

Tells Senate Evils He Sees in Kenyon Bill for Control.

(BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.)

Washington, D. C., Sept. 2.—(Special.)—Patrick Brennan, president of the Independent Packing company, Chicago, told the senate committee on agriculture today that adoption of the Kenyon or Kendrick packing house regulation bills would deal a serious blow to small packers.

Scores of small firms, he predicted, would be ruined if compelled to undergo government license regulation.

"I believe license restrictions will make it utterly impossible for the average small business man to obtain financial backing," Mr. Brennan explained. "Bankers are pretty shrewd business men. They have had experience with government regulation of business and they know that it affects securities they hold. It is a hazard, and bankers and capitalists do not indulge in speculation."

Tells of Firm's Growth.

Mr. Brennan said that in competition with the five larger packing concerns "at their home base," his company had grown from a capital stock of $125,000 in 1905 to $1,500,000 and a surplus of $1,400,000 at present.

"The firm's sales last year aggregated more than $27,000,000," he said. "I assume that if it can be shown that these bills will injure the efficiency and the business of the smaller packers, you will agree with me that they are harmful."

Under these bills, we would operate by virtue purely of the license issued by the secretary of agriculture, and if he believed or suspected that we had violated any of the regulations, he could revoke our license. Now I propose to show you some of the results.

Sees Effects of Plot.

"Dissatisfied employees might conspire to do some unlawful act, and against their concerted statements would be only the word of a company official. This the secretary of agriculture might believe or not, as he chose."

"The achievements of a lifetime, the investment of millions, and a large business would be obliterated by the stroke of a pen."

Discussing the refrigerator car situation, Brennan said his company owned 100.

"There is an impression that taking away the cars would cure all the difficulties," he said. "There are not enough of them now to handle all the business."

DERF 360 POINT SPARK PLUGS

A Challenge!

DERF Spark Plugs will save from 15 to 35% gasoline; they will fire under oil or water; they will give more power to an engine at less cost—and last twice as long as the average spark plug—they do not easily carbonize or foul.

These statements have been proved by test. We know of no other spark plug made that can claim such a wonderful record.

This is an open challenge to the motorists of America. Get the Derf dealer to tell you how to use Derf Spark Plugs. We guarantee you a saving in gasoline—more power—less trouble and greater satisfaction.

Will you try it? Isn't it worth your while to at least test a plug that will save its cost many times over?

Ask your dealer today for a set. Cut down your gasoline mixture as he will tell you. Then fire away and see what life and pep this super-plug can give your car. $6.20 for four, $9.30 for six.

Derf Plugs won the N. Y. Herald-Government Fuel Economy Test; the Packard Motors Efficiency Test; the Overland Dependability Run (By Towers Motor Co.), and Official Fuel Economy Trials by both Automobile Club of America and Motor Truck Club of America.

Deep in men's hearts

we found the answer to the "greater production" problem

To business men, economists, concerned with the problem of greater production we offer this page from our experience in solving this problem among farmers.

For many years we believed, with the textbooks, that land was the source of all wealth. And we labored diligently to disseminate information that would make farms more productive.

Then one day we met this thought:

If the known facts about fertilizers were used by all the farmers of this country the wealth of our grain crops would be more than doubled.

How to get facts used

As we pondered the problem of getting such facts used it came to us where the textbooks were wrong.

The source of wealth lay, not in the land, but in the hidden energies of the men who were to work the land.

From that day forth we have edited FARM & FIRESIDE, not for "farmers," but for men—who live on farms.

Men who will use facts, even as you and I, once they see them as the road to their heart's desire.

Men who get discouraged, and need the stimulation of other men's successes to renew their hopes.

Men with secret ambitions, waiting the touch of encouragement to uncover them.

Men who get tired, and need a laugh to make them forget their tiredness.

Men who fail of their best, and need new wants to spur them on to greater efforts.

Men, in short, of infinite capacity, when they solve, not their technical problems but their human problems; men in whose hearts and homes, not fields, lie the mainsprings of their greater achievement.

And the responsiveness to new ideas that comes today from the more than 600,000 FARM & FIRESIDE homes confirms us in this belief.

SUES RICH MEN FOR TAXES ON 'HIDDEN WEALTH'

School Attorney Files
$5,604,905 in Claims
Against 23.

the Pullman company, $100,000, 1910-18, 13,516
S. P. Wells Jr., 550 Surf street, $33,500, 1909-18, 14,465
Albert J. Earling, 1400 North State parkway, ex-president Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul railway, $44,500, 1915-18, 3,307
Treasurer Aids Move.
Harry R. Gibbons, county treasurer and ex-officio county collector, is understood to have facilitated Mr. Mulvihill's preparation of his bill.
"The amount I have asked the board of review to assess," the latter explained, "is additional to any standing assessments against the parties to the proceedings. The assessor never has been able to list the securities I shall be prepared to enumerate to the board."
"The reason I failed to set them out in detail in the original complaint was because I merely wished to attract the board's attention to the importance of the matter, and not to enter into an extended explanation of its merits."

Mr. Mulvihill added he expected soon to request the board's permission to place his supplemental data before it.
An effort to learn the precise amount of personal property scheduled by the taxpayers involved failed, but Stephen D. Griffin, chief clerk to the board, asserted it was "insignificant compared to Mr. Mulvihill's figures."
"The Illinois tax law puts a premium on dishonesty," Mr. Griffin said, "and the state can not expect stockholders to list their securities until it reduces the rate such property is required to pay."

Go Over Until 1929?
Whether the cases will be heard before the fall of 1929 appeared problematical. The statute specifies complaints shall be filed not later than Aug. 10.
"It is true," Mr. Griffin pointed out, "that Mr. Mulvihill's bill does not refer to the current schedules, but there is a fine legal question respecting its acceptance. Even if his proof were sufficient, and the assessments should be increased, the courts might knock out all the proceedings on a technicality."

Confident of Success.
The school board's counsel anticipated no such difficulty, however.
The attorney, since he was first retained by the old "solid six" school trustees, has himself been sued by a taxpayer, who sought to forestall his efforts in the public's behalf. This litigation was launched after the Supreme court reinstated the Loeb board. Mr. Mulvihill remained out of favor, moreover, until Loeb's and his associates' terms had expired and Mayor Thompson's new appointees were installed by the council.
About three weeks ago a meeting of the board was held at which a new contract with Mr. Mulvihill was confirmed. The financial arrangements were the same as those of the first agreement, but the attorney declared last night "a few technicalities were ironed out."

DRYERS WANT $111 TAX ON DRINK IF RUM'S REPRIEVED

Ten thousand dollars a gallon or about $111 a drink.

That is the size of the government tax the Prohibition party wishes placed upon whisky and other intoxicants in case demobilization of the army occurs before constitutional prohibition becomes effective next January.
"Tax the Demon Rum out of business before he dies officially with the advent of the eighteenth amendment," was the unanimous verdict of the Prohibition national committee in its final session yesterday at Hotel Morrison.
When the constitutional amendment does begin to function the Prohibitionists demand that congress shall abolish all internal revenue legislation concerning intoxicating liquors for beverage purposes.

Chairman Virgil G. Hinshaw was directed by the national committee to communicate with Congressman Randall, the Prohibition party representative from California, informing him of the party's stand; if it is necessary to have stop-gap legislation at Washington to keep the nation dry between war time prohibition and the great drought that starts Jan. 18.

Girl with Lost Memory Daughter of Minister

Miss Erna Straassbergers, the young woman who was found at Leland avenue and Sheridan road Monday night with bruised face and bleeding hands, is still a partial mystery to the authorities at the psychopathic hospital. She has not yet recovered full mental control, though Dr. Henry L. Orlov believes that she will today. It was learned that she is the daughter of a retired German minister living near Milwaukee. Her parents have been asked to come and take charge of her.

WARD ORGANIZES FOR FIGHT ON PROFITEERING

The Thirty-second ward has declared war upon King High Cost of Living and his illegitimate subjects, the profiteers.

Last night the indignant housewives and their families gathered in the hall at Ogden park, gave heed to the battle cry of cooperation, and then, under the leadership of the Anti-Profiteering League of America, organized the first community society in the city to fight the soaring prices.

The purpose of the league may be summarized in the words of Mrs. Eva Benkinga, who was elected chairman of the Thirty-second ward branch.

"We intend to scare the profiteer and cooperate with the fair dealers," she said. "When we find a profiteer we are going to boycott him. When we find a fair dealer we are going to patronize him."

Through cooperation of the housewives of the nation it is proposed to initiate legislation that will prevent the willful destruction and hoarding of food supplies and make profiteering of any kind a criminal offense.

"Fill the profiteer with a nameless terror," urged the Rev. R. Keene Ryan. "It's the prison, and the prison only, that the profiteer fears. If we can convince the legislators that he is a thief, so that they will make laws that will place him in prison for his robbery, the high cost of living will be throttled."

Make Yourself a JUNIOR ACCOUNTANT In Five Months

Junior Accountants Earn $35-$50 a Week
Senior Accountants Earn $50-$200 a Week

If you are ambitious to become a successful accountant, our training should enable you to make yourself a Junior Accountant earning from $35 to $50 a week within five months; and within twelve months should qualify you for a position of Senior Accountant, Auditor or Income Tax Expert at a salary of at least $50 a week, with possibilities of double that, or more.

It is only a question of industry—a fixed purpose to devote a few spare hours a week to intensive training in accordance with the most successful business training system ever devised under the tutelage of a corps of eminent certified public accountants who are renowned as practical teachers.

We have given hundreds of ambitious, earnest men and women the start that has put them over the top, and we have their records to point to with just pride. We can do as much for you if you are made of the right stuff. It is worth your while to investigate. Write or telephone for an office appointment. C. A. Fieldcamp, 118 So. ## When is a confession not a confession?

A wonderful girl as mysterious as she is attractive... An officer of the Royal Northwest Mounted Police... The great north country, the scent of pine trees in the air... A confession that turned everything topsy-turvy. Read "The Valley of Silent Men" and you will realize why the other big story "The River's End" by the same famous author was followed eagerly by hundreds of thousands of readers. DO you know that a 93 year old woman is still in business? Do you know the newest ideas for a home entertainment? Would you like to have 3 pages in color just for the kiddies? These are just a few of the features contained in the largest issue of any woman's magazine ever published. Among the other authors in the same issue are: William J. Locke, Elsie Janis, Fanny Heaslip Lea, Dr. Frank Crane, Coningsby Dawson, Ida M. Evans, Louis Untermyer, Dorothy Dix.

SEPTEMBER Good Housekeeping contains 396 different advertisements — every one placed there as a reader-service and every one backed by our own guarantee. In fact, Good Housekeeping even goes so far as to maintain laboratories where all kinds of testable merchandise are tried out thoroughly before they can be admitted to the advertising pages. See for yourself in the September issue what a wonderful department this Department of Advertisements is.

How the Crown Prince treats his wife

Princess Cecile was a wonderful child. She had all the charm that Russian parentage and French culture could give her. She inherited an intense hatred for Germany and then, against her will, she was forced to marry the German Crown Prince.

What has happened since then is told by one of her closest friends, Princess Radziwill. It is one of the most astounding chapters of court life ever published.

Paris and the winter fashions

Know the right fashions and avoid costly mistakes. Good Housekeeping for September contains more Fashions than it has ever before published in one issue. Not the freaks of Fashion but the new, wearable, clothes of distinction. One article tells where to find the latest styles and the fair price to pay. Another gives the dress-making points in the newest clothes. A third tells what is latest in corsets, shoes and gloves. 90 illustrations feature this complete department.

43 Ways to fight the H. C. of L.

Concerning the general work of the home, Good Housekeeping gives 43 distinct ways to fight the higher cost of living. Every one of the ideas has been actually tried, tested and found practical. They'll save not only money but time, friction, worry and effort. As an added feature appear the tested menus and directions for four complete dinners. And Good Housekeeping, too, serves as a guaranteed buying guide for household equipment to fill every possible need.

Cardinal Mercier speaks

Before his visit to America "The Fighting Cardinal" has sent a message through our foreign correspondent. He tells poignantly of some of the trials suffered by the Belgians and explains as only he can, some of the things America has done for the "rag doll of Europe". His talk is suffused with the glow and spirit of Peace—and his vision is here given for the first time.

It is the duty of the state to deny marriage certificates to certain people. Who they are, and why, are features of this article. The sex problem and the various crises in a child's life are discussed authoritatively and constructively.

Are You Alive Enough to Make Better Money?

Have you got the health to earn more?

Think a minute. You make your money by being on the job every day and doing your work as well as you know how to do it.

Some days you don't work as well as others. Some days you are sick—you don't work at all. But the best work you can do—taking it the year 'round—is only as good as your health will let you do. And your income is only as good as your work. Isn't it true?

Here you are—you find yourself the owner and inhabitant of one, particular flesh-and-blood body. It isn't a perfect body. Now and then you grumble about its defects. But you are going to spend all your life in it. You can't exchange it. And you can't replace a single worn out part after it's gone.

So the way you take care of that body is the way you are going to win—or lose. The health you put into it as you go along will come back to you in dollars, in pleasure, in life, in better work and play.

Every month PHYSICAL CULTURE Magazine tells a dozen ways to get good health and keep it. It answers scores of questions about your body and its care—intimate questions that seem to be answered for you alone. It tells how to correct some of those defects that you complain were "wished on" you, how to dodge sickness, how to make health pay a profit.

For Instance, In the September Issue—Out Today

How to Overcome Shyness

You're up on your feet. Every one is silent—looking at you—waiting for you to say something. And you flounder. The right words won't come. Old Man Stage-Fright stands right there beside you with his fingers on your throat.

Unnecessary suffering, every bit of it. There's a way to leave all that shyness behind you for good. Dr. Frank Crane knows the secret of self-possession, and in September PHYSICAL CULTURE tells how any one can overcome shyness. Here is crisp advice from a master.

Could You Use 50 Pounds More of Health?

The crash came when he had been married a year. Twelve doctors shook their heads and said all sorts of things were the matter with him. And in the meantime his job was filled by some one else.

Down to 101 pounds at last. What was left of him started to exercise regularly. And things began to happen.

F. H. Aunkst tells in September PHYSICAL CULTURE how he jumped from 101 pounds of disease to 152 pounds of health. Could you use 50 pounds more? Here's the way to gain it.

Are You Starving to Death on Food?

Lots of people are. They eat enough, they feel all right, but they are cutting years off their lives and literally starving to death on calories, on proteins, on fats and on carbohydrates served to them under our modern "art" of cooking.

Here is an important message for you on how to feed the ductless glands, how to keep up your vitality, lengthen your life, and better your health. There is valuable knowledge in Dr. Alfred Berg's article, "Fresh Vegetable Juice—A Life-Saving Food," in September PHYSICAL CULTURE.

Exercises That Rest You

Have you ever noticed that the movie stars who are famous for hard-to-do "stunts" in their pictures are about the healthiest crowd in the world? They seem to be almost bursting with energy and good nature. Well, this is one of their secrets. Here's why it's better to exercise—if you do it right—than to "flop" when you are tired. Carl Easton Williams tells about it in September PHYSICAL CULTURE in an article illustrated with poses by George Larkin. Read it. The idea is worth money.

How One Eugenic Marriage Came Out

Two men wanted to marry her when she left college. She liked them both, so she went away to think things out. One offered her delightful mental companionship, but he was a bundle of nerves. The other was a fine physical specimen, but his family were not of her sort. She accepted the athlete at last because it was the fairest thing she could do for her future children.

There was a eugenic union. What came of it? The wife herself frankly tells the story of her marriage and motherhood in September PHYSICAL CULTURE. Valuable reading for both girls and men.

If You Have Girls to Bring Up—

Have you ever been stumped on how to give that little daughter the right slant on things? Is she growing up just the way you planned to have her?

Bringing up girls is about the hardest job in the world—if it's done right. The mother of four wonderful daughters wrote the First Prize Winning Letter in the Home and Family Life Contest. It tells the solution of a dozen parental problems. Her two oldest girls were ready for college at seventeen, and they never had a family physician.

The Money Value of Better Health

Can I really get a cash return on red corpuscles? A good digestion? A supple back? If you were asking J. Ogden Armour of Chicago he would probably answer you by pointing to a $100,000 gymnasium that he built not long ago for the office workers at his huge plant. It's an investment, not a charity. If other men's health is worth more than $100,000 to Armour, what is yours worth to you?

Read about his "gym" in September PHYSICAL CULTURE. And as you turn these inspiring pages you will find worlds of interest and profit in such articles as "Learning How to Sing" by Edward Lankow of the Metropolitan Opera Company; "With Galli-Curci Out-of-Doors," a close-up of a wonderful woman; "Man Cannot Live On Meat Alone" by Alfred W. McCann; "Overcoming the Handicap of Deafness," "The Road to Success," and others.

There's a copy of September PHYSICAL CULTURE waiting for you at any news stand.

What Physical Culture Has Done and Is Doing for You

PHYSICAL CULTURE was "first to fight" among the magazines in the war against vicious patent medicines and led the charge with such vigor that poison "medicine" makers have been driven down and out.

PHYSICAL CULTURE was the first publication to talk frankly about the evils of prudery. And it continues to talk as frankly today. Read the editorial in the September issue on Prudery and Disease.

Today the United States Government is spending two million dollars a year for spreading almost the identical propaganda that PHYSICAL CULTURE inaugurated and for which its founder almost went to jail.

PHYSICAL CULTURE told the truth about the effects of corset-wearing. As a result the corset evil has almost disappeared. Although women wear corsets, tight lacing has gone out of fashion and the natural figure has become the stylish figure. And a better race of men is on the way.

Bernarr Macfadden Says

"A five-thousand-dollar automobile is usually treated with the most careful attention.

"But a twenty-five or fifty-thousand-dollar man often runs along with his gears out of mesh, with little or no attention to the lubrication of his joints, with small thought to the kind of fuel he uses and with his internal parts unclean and defective.

"This same man has the audacity to wonder why his money value fails to increase each year.

"If you can earn $1,000 a year your human mechanism ought to be worth from ten to twenty times that amount; if your earning capacity is $10,000 your value runs up accordingly.

"Often an old, worn out human mechanism can be put into such repair that it will achieve results almost beyond belief or hope."

The History of the Piano

The principal stages in the development of the piano are illustrated here:

The CLAVICHORD

is one of the earliest forms of keyed instruments; it was developed early in the 14th century in Italy. Later it became the favorite instrument of Bach and Mozart.

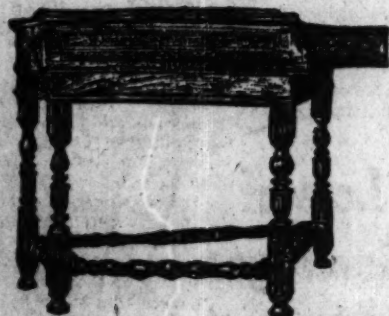

It was a small box-like instrument without legs, of limited range and soft tone.

The VIRGINAL

developed early in the 16th century was the next step. It differed from the Clavichord principally in the method of striking the wires—this was the favorite instrument of Queen Elizabeth.

The SPINET

was originated in Venice in 1503. It was named after its designer, Joannes Spinetus. It differed from the Virginal principally in that it had a larger and harp shaped body and was mounted on legs.

The HARPSICHORD

was a larger form of Spinet. It was perfected by Hans Ruckers & Sons, of Antwerp, in 1590.

Ruckers Harpsichords had both wire and cat gut strings, and an extra keyboard similar to an organ. Handel had a Harpsichord.

The PIANOFORTE

The modern hammer action was invented by Bartolommeo Cristofori, of Italy, about 1709. Heretofore the strings had been picked by a quill or struck by a tiny brass hammer.

Cristofori called his instrument the Pianoforte—because the player could play either piano (soft) or forte (loud).

The SQUARE PIANO-FORTE

is accredited to Christian Ernest Frederici, of Saxony, in 1750. Frederici was a pupil of Silbermann, a pianoforte maker of great repute.

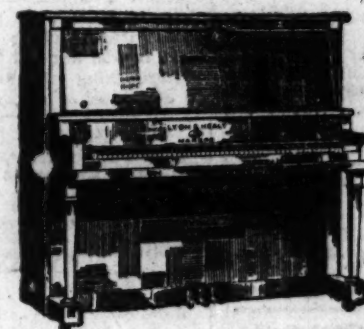

This was a revolutionary change, making the pianoforte convenient in size and shape.

The FIRST SUCCESSFUL UPRIGHT PIANO

with an upright action was invented by William Southwell, of England, in 1807. Previous to this several attempts had been made to set a grand on end!

The LYON & HEALY UPRIGHT PIANO

is the development of more than a half century's experience in the manufacture and sale of the world's highest grade musical instruments. It represents the best piano value in America at the price.

The LYON & HEALY PLAYER PIANO

has all the quality of the upright plus a perfect mechanism enabling the many music lovers who have not studied piano technique to play. This instrument plays any standard 88-note roll.

The LYON & HEALY APARTMENT GRAND pictured above is the last step in the development of the piano. It alone is equipped with the

N. Y. A DEAD SEA OF SOFT DRINKS AND NO SHOWS

Gayeties Gone, Visitors
Few; Theaters May Reopen Today.

BY PERCY HAMMOND.
New York, Sept. 2.—[Special.]—Broadway is a boulevard lined with hysop and wormwood these days and not a posy adorns its dreary environs. They sell bananas in front of the New Amsterdam theater, and upon the corners where the jaunty mummer used to gesture toy balloons are vended, as at a village fair.

New York is a sad surprise to the tourist, and the joy of living. It is, in its possibilities for the tourist, a dead sea of soft drinks and no shows. Gone are the gayeties, flitted away with alcohol and the actor, and in their stead are the withered skeletons of the electric signs, with here and there a glum inhabitant musing lugubriously about the better days.

No Place to Go but to Bed.
Few visitors are present except you. The hotel man will ponder and worry about accommodations for you, and he will tell you that never have there been so many pilgrims to New York as there are at present. But your room looks as if it hadn't been occupied for a fortnight, and all the hotel cages which once were filled with guests from the outskirts are now closed except the smallest one. Here you will find the usual suburban merchants, but in lesser numbers and in no high spirits.

Compers Dominates Drama.
The strike is no longer important as a strike of actors. Players, union and otherwise, are eager to perform, but the heavy handed decision to permit them. Jefferson De Angelis, an Equity leader, had a troupe of union broke comedians ready to play "The Mikado," and the mechanics forbade. Every theater in New York, and Chicago, could open today with first class players, were it not for the American Federation of Labor.

The managers can get stagehands, and violinists, and billposters, too, in plenty, but they tremble a bit when they confront the squat shape of Samuel Compers. They can operate without the Drews, the Barrymores, the Laskys, the Courtenays, the Walter Jesses, the Francis Williams, etc., but Samuel's disapproval gives them a chill.

He is today the dominant figure in the American drama. He means more at this crisis than Gilbert Murray, the tragedian, George Broadhurst, the Shakespeare, Hazell Dwyer, Bernard Shaw, Ann Pennington, the Drama League, Flo Ziegfeld, Prof. Baker, Ina Claire, Maeterlinck, and the six Brown brothers all put together.

Talk of Reconstruction.
At the meeting of the nonunion actors tonight at the more progress was reported. Mr. Cohan spoke in a mood conciliatory, and plans were announced for a gradual resumption of the art. Mr. Ziegfeld's nonunion "Follies" are in rehearsal, and so are Mr. George White's "Scandals." The Shuberts' "Gaieties" are likewise in preparation, and it was said that other serious embarking would be made this week upon the stormy nonunion waters.

The managers, as I see them, are hurt. They have felt all along that actors were pets and they fed and dressed and cared for them lavishly. As Whitford Kane, the Irish comedian, says: "It is like being bitten by a midwife."

Mr. Richard Harding Davis, who is Miss Beanie McCoy upon the stage, is having a hard time in the "Greenwich Village Follies." The company is union and she is not, so they post the word "scab" on her dressing room door and hiss at her from the wing when she is doing her dances.

STRIKE MAY BE SETTLED.
New York Sept. 2.—[Special.]—A meeting of managers tonight gave some promise of an early settlement of the actors' strike.

Optimistic reports were heard at 1 o'clock this morning, when the members of the Producing Managers' association were still in session with, according to a reliable report, the heads of the stage hands' union and their counsel. The Actors' Equity association was not represented.

A promised "important" statement, however, failed to appear at the termination of the meeting. Arthur Hopkins, a member of the Managers' association, said:

"The theaters have to open—strike or no strike."

It was reported in an authoritative quarter tonight that the managers stood 26 to 6 in favor of recognizing the Equity. The six opponents of recognition, however, were said to be among the most important producers.

Whalen, Peck, and Lipsky Retain Commission Posts
James M. Whalen, Ralph L. Peck, and Harry A. Lipsky were reappointed members of the county civil service commission yesterday by the county board. Whalen's term expires July 1, 1920; Peck's, a year later, and Lipsky's, July 1, 1922.

THIRTEEN YEAR OLD BOY HANGS SELF IN HOME

Puts on Mother's Shoes
Before Taking Own Life.

A 13 year old boy committed suicide last night in his home. He was Harvey Donahue, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Donahue of 9021 Marshfield avenue. His parents wanted him to go with them to a picture show yesterday evening, but he refused, though usually he was eager to attend. He remained home immersed in a "Boy Scout" book. Beside him was a rope in which he had been practicing tying knots.

The lights were out when Harvey's mother and father returned, though the hour was not late. They called to him. He did not answer. They went into his bedroom to see if he were asleep.

Find Boy Hanging.
And they found him hanging to the bedpost, a rope around his neck. While the mother shrieked, the father cut the rope, and while she cried and kissed Harvey and begged him to speak, the elder Donahue called the telephone operator and asked her to send a doctor.

The physician, C. C. Hopkirk, 9949 Longwood drive, said the boy had been dead more than an hour. He said the boy must have killed himself.

Mother Insists on Accident.
The police asserted that, too, though the mother insisted it was an accident; her boy had no reason to end his life.

A policeman, however, noticed that the boy had put on his mother's shoes, and that other pairs of her shoes were scattered about the room. He voiced the opinion that perhaps Harvey's mind had been unbalanced.

'YOU CAN DRINK IN
ERIN,' SAYS TAG
SCORNER; JAIL!

Prohibition, Ireland, and the attitude of America toward the affairs of the world led to an embroilment yesterday afternoon in which George Reilly, 41 years old, a former Canadian soldier, was one of the participants.

Reilly, who was discharged from the Canadian army in July, after two years' service overseas, was approached at South Dearborn and West Adams streets by Miss Fallon.

Reilly, then, as an afterthought, "freed" her America. You can get a drink in Ireland."

Miss Fallon resented the remark and the argument was waxing furious when Policeman Michael Devine of the central station intervened.

"America should mind her own business," Reilly was asserting.

He was taken to the station and a charge of disorderly conduct was lodged against him by Miss Fallon. He will be arraigned in the South Clark street court today.

RIVAL ACTORS'
LEAGUE MAKES
BOW IN STRIKE

"Cue! The Fidelity League enters." That served as yesterday's climax in the actors' strike.

The league, organized by George Cohan and denounced as pro-manager, has thus far enlisted Mr. Cohan, the strike and believe the managers just. Entrance of the league into the Chicago situation was at the suggestion of Harry Riddings, manager here for Cohan & Harris.

More than 200 application blanks reached Mr. Riddings.

As for the strike—it knew no pause. During the day the benefit performance at the Auditorium theater was perfected. It was announced there was a heavy seat sale and a week's business totaling $40,000 was expected.

"Johnnie" O'Connor—of whom Jack Laity writes in today's "Wake of the News"—called on George Cohan yesterday and told him the girls of "The Passing Show" were in hard luck. They were not members of the Equity and received no money from the strikers. They had been paid $15 in two weeks, he said, and he wished Cohan to notify the Shuberts of the fact and have them help the girls.

LARGE ESTATES TEST TAXATION OF TRUST FUNDS

J. N. Field and Hall Mc-Cormick Heirs Brought Into Court Action.

Does a trust fund remain a trust fund at the death of one of the heirs leaving it and, consequently, should an inheritance tax be paid on it when death takes one of the heirs of the man who at death made it into a trust fund?

Executors of two large estates—Stanley Field and ex-Ald. Robert H. McCormick—started yesterday to test the legality of the government's contention that such funds are taxable for inheritance, as they pass from one generation to another—not merely on the death of the founders of the funds.

Test Suits Started.
Mr. Field filed suit yesterday against the beneficiaries of the Kate Field suit and against Julius F. Smietanka, collector of internal revenue, asking the federal courts to interpret internal revenue act in regard to payments demanded by Mr. Smietanka on the gross estate at the death of those from whom the present heirs received them.

The defendants in the Field suit are as follows: Norman Field of Lorington Hall, Darlington, Yorkshire, England; Maude Field Clegg, Broadway, Worcestershire, England; Laura Field Clegg, Delaware Forest, Northwick, Cheshire, England; Josephine Field Crossley, Moberley Hall, Knutsford, Cheshire, England, and Mr. Smietanka.

Raise Point of Interest.
Kate Field was the widow of Joseph N. Field, who was a brother of Marshall Field Sr. The heirs named as defendants, according to the bill, have threatened to sue the executor, Stanley Field, if he makes tax payments, amounting to $33,534, demanded by Mr. Smietanka on the gross estate of Kate Field. The heirs contend, the bill states, that inheritance tax should be paid on only the amount of Kate Field's personal estate of $39,210.82, rather than on this sum plus the Joseph Field estate amounting to $1,360,382, which became a trust fund in the hands of Kate Field at the time of the death of Joseph Field.

The suit on the personal estate of Kate Field, which has been paid, amounts to $34,282. If the payments on the gross estate are made, Stanley Field, as executor, will be held responsible by the other heirs for the making of such payments.

As to Hall McCormick Estate.
A similar situation exists in regard to the McCormick estate. Robert H. McCormick, executor, names the following as defendants: Sarah Lord McCormick, Chicago; Henrietta Hamilton Williams, Bedford Hills, N. Y.; Elizabeth Williams, Chicago; Phoebe Lord Ayer, Robert McCormick Ayer, minor, and Janet Ayer, Madison, Wis.; Mildred Day McCormick, Chicago, and Mr. Smietanka.

Here it is the contention of the heirs that the gross estate of R. Hall McCormick, embracing his personal estate of $2,503,910, plus a trust fund left by Leander J. McCormick and totaling $7,511,732, should not be taxed, but that only the personal estate of R. Hall McCormick is now taxable.

Mr. Smietanka assesses the total estate, asking the payment of taxes amounting to $204,410.65, while the tax on the individual estate of R. Hall McCormick, which has been paid, is all that the heirs believe should be paid.

Six Songbirds for Potpie
Bring Fine of $13.33 Each

Waukegan, Ill., Sept. 2.—[Special.]—Francisco Spanagolia, who conducts two stores in Chicago, one on De Koven street and the other on Taylor street, wanted a nice potpie, so he went hunting Monday. Warden Kern brought him before Police Magistrate Taylor in Waukegan, where he was fined $30 for shooting six song birds.

$17,500,000 PUTS CHICAGO SECOND IN RISK CLAIMS

$1,115,810,000 Paid in Year by Insurance
Concerns.

Chicago, with $17,500,000, ranked second among cities in the United States in the amount of insurance claims and benefits paid in 1918, according to tables released today by the Insurance Press, an actuary publication.

New York City, including Brooklyn, Manhattan, and the Bronx, was first with $37,412,000. The figure for Evanston was $386,000, and Oak Park $503,500.

A total of $1,115,810,000 was paid out during the year by all insurance companies and the government war risk bureau, during the year, the magazine's tabulations showed.

The largest single claim paid was in the case of Robert A. Rowan of Los Angeles, Cal., the amount being $575,000.

Chief Chicago Benefits.
The largest policy met in Chicago was that of Albert L. Straus, $195,000. Other large Chicago claims paid were:

Samuel A. Newman, president of the Ohio Iron and Metal company, $172,000.

Joseph Schaffner of Hart, Schaffner & Marx, clothing, $150,000.

James E. Rutledge, president of the Rutledge & Taylor Coal company, $122,321.

William A. Amberg, 1310 North State street, $120,885.

William R. Sterling, partner in Peabody, Houghteling & Co., $117,364.

Frank W. Furry, 437 East Forty-ninth street, $102,000.

John H. Goehst, president Federal Electric Sign company, $100,000.

William A. Lydon, president Great Lakes Dredge and Dock company, $80,000.

Edward H. Pitkin, head of Pitkin & Brooks, $77,500.

Charles E. Hyman, 5602 Blackstone avenue, $75,000.

Hector H. McLean, manager Del Prado hotel, $70,000.

Edwin R. Moore, champion Edge-water Golf club, $70,000.

CITY WILL SUE CONTRACTORS TO FORCE LINK WORK

Faherty Plans Action Against Bond of Builders.

Suit on the $7,000,000 bond of the Great Lakes Dredge and Dock company to force work on the boulevard link is to be begun immediately, Michael J. Faherty, president of the board of local improvements, said yesterday.

Mr. Faherty ordered city lawyers to begin work on the notice of the suit today.

"I have been told by both sides in the building strike to wait just one more day. I have waited 'just one more day' until I'm tired of it," said Mr. Faherty.

"Procedure against the bond will be long and tedious, but I feel it my duty to begin it nevertheless."

By promising to pay them the wages scheduled to be agreed upon at the end of the building strike, Mr. Faherty has several hundred structural iron workers who are ready to go to work on the link. Material for the new bridge is lacking, however, as the American Bridge company, Gary, Ind., has refused to deliver the iron to Mr. Faherty on the ground that its contract calls for delivery to the Great Lakes Dredge and Dock company.

The Swimming Days Are Over, Burkhardt Rules

Chicago's five municipal bathing beaches closed their season last night. Deputy Commissioner of Public Works Burkhardt issued the closing order five days before he had intended to issue it, because cool weather has cut the attendance to almost zero. The beaches closed are Clarendon, Rogers Park, Seventy-fifth street, Seventy-ninth street and Fifty street. Beach receipts for the year were about $40,000, a slight increase over last year, and more than enough to pay expenses.

Civil War Veteran Hurt

Jasper T. Darling, 5910 South Park avenue, a civil war veteran, was severely injured yesterday by an auto driven by Samuel Laster, 2219 Park avenue, colored. Laster is under arrest.

ASKS CHAIR FOR 'MIDDLE CLASS' AT WILSON MEETING

At last—a rescuer and a champion for the bourgeoisie—the so-called middle class.

J. P. Cummings last night took up the cause of the "middle class" at a meeting at the Khaki and Blue club of the Cook and Lake county organization committee and the post council of the American legion.

Declaring President Wilson had invited to a round table conference representatives of capital and labor, he told the legionnaires:

"It seems to me the middle class should be represented at this round table—it's high time it was represented somewhere—and I propose this organization suggest to President Wilson that since the American legion is largely representative of the middle class—is, in fact, the only national organization which is at all representative of that class—a delegate of the legion from each state be invited to sit at the round table conference to look after middle class interests."

The meeting voted unanimously to telegraph the proposal to President Wilson.

A mass meeting on behalf of the legion is to take place at the club Tuesday evening. Special efforts are to be made to induce ex-service men of foreign descent to join. Legion envoys are to attend the All-American exposition at the Coliseum daily to get new members.

MYSTERIOUS LEG
ENDSWANDERINGS

Boy, fetch the fatted calf, and let us eat and be merry, for lo! the prodigal leg is returned.

Returned to its owner after a series of exciting adventures that began a few hours before J. M. McMahon found it in front of his cigar store at 338 West Van Buren street Monday, and ended yesterday in this Tribune's office.

The owner identified it to the satisfaction of all concerned, but we may not disclose his name. It was like this:

He bought the leg last Saturday morning and in commemoration decided to christen it Saturday night. The ceremonies extended over Saturday night, Sunday, and Sunday night. Whether the leg wandered away he knows not. It was missing when he awoke Monday morning. The reader knows the rest.

SOLDIERS' BONUS
BILL RATIFIED
BY WISCONSIN

Milwaukee, Wis., Sept. 2.—The Wisconsin soldiers' bonus bill, appropriating approximately $15,000,000 through taxes, which passed the legislature with a referendum attachment, today at a special state election was ratified by margins ranging from 2 to 1 to 10 to 1, according to returns received up to 10 o'clock tonight.

Soldiers, sailors, marines, and nurses who enlisted in the World war will receive $10 for each month's service, the minimum to be $50.

Milwaukee county cast 23,441 votes for the measure and 9,565 against. Fourteen other counties gave approximately 15,000 for and 6,000 against.

QUIZ TURNS NEW LIGHT ON MURDER OF GENTLEMAN

Sweetheart Offers Alibi to Refute Self-Defense.

BULLETIN.
Two policemen from the Cottage Grove avenue station were brought into the state's attorney's office early this morning. Their names are Dawes and Stokes, and First Deputy Alcock admits they were in the cigar store of Marty Guilfoyle, slayer of Pete Gentleman, at 3 o'clock on the morning of the murder, and that they reported to the station that nothing unusual was going on. All witnesses were ordered locked up at 2 o'clock until today. Gentleman's cellmate at Pontiac, who was in the cigar store game, declared the house was getting a rakeoff of 20 cents an hour from each player.

After shooting questions at the principals in the murder of Peter Gentleman for five hours, men from the state's attorney's office announced at midnight that they had obtained evidence that will overthrow the commonly accepted theories of the murder.

The nature of this evidence was not indicated, but it became known that the testimony of Winnie Brooks, Gentleman's underworld sweetheart, will be used to riddle the defense of "Marty" Guilfoyle, his slayer. Guilfoyle has insisted Gentleman's conduct in his cigar store at 2228 South Wabash avenue Monday morning made it necessary to kill him in self-defense.

The story that the state's attorney expects to upset is that Gentleman entered the cigar store at 3 o'clock in the morning, walked up to Guilfoyle, and threatened to kill him. According to Guilfoyle's witnesses, the dead slayer brandished a gun.

Later, according to the same version, Gentleman returned to the cigar store and threw a brick at Guilfoyle, who tore four holes in his assailant's back with an automatic in retaliation as he was running from the store.

Woman's Testimony.
From the testimony of the Brooks woman—and the state's attorney's office is inclined to credit her story—it would appear that Gentleman never entered the cigar store until the time of the shooting. Her story is that she was with him all night in the Rex cafe (formerly Bismarck), and that he did not leave her until morning.

Be less this discrepancy with the accounts of Guilfoyle's friends. It was pointed out by the state's attorney that an attempt had been made to conceal the murder by mopping up the stains and that the bullet holes—all in Gentleman's back—preclude the theory of self-defense.

Suggests Gambling Loss.
It was indicated by George Kenney, who conducted the investigation for Mr. Hoynes, that the theory upon which the state's attorney's office is working is that Gentleman had lost heavily in Guilfoyle's place and was seeking his money when he was shot.

That, or some row over the payment of police graft or a gunman's feud precipitated the trouble, according to Mr. Kenney, the state's attorney is inclined to believe the latter. According to several who profess intimate knowledge of the details, Gentleman was a "piker" gambler and was not likely to play a hand unless he knew he knew he was skilled. Guilfoyle and his victim "trained" in different factions of the south side gangs, and factions of each they probably threatened exposure of each other in crooked deals.

Suggests Frameup.
The theory there was a frameup waiting for Gentleman when he entered the cigar store was also entertained by detectives working on the murder.

Assistant State's Attorney James C. O'Brien and John Lowry declared they obtained evidence corroborating Winnie Brooks' story from a witness on Sept. 1 to a civilian life after a military service of more than thirty years.

He will be succeeded here by Col. Harry E. Wilkins, sole supply officer at New York.

Lacking Cash to Appeal,
She Must Go to Prison

Hope of escaping imprisonment in the state penitentiary expired yesterday for Mrs. Vera Trepagnier, convicted of slaying Paul Frederick Voland. In vain the convicted woman attempted to raise sufficient funds to carry her case to the Supreme court.

Julius Will T. Davies, a place where yesterday the matinee granting Mrs. Trepagnier a fifteen day stay had expired.

She is under a sentence of one to fifteen years.

Honor Brig. Gen. Kniskern,
Retiring After 30 Years

Brig. Gen. Albert D. Kniskern, depot quartermaster, central department, U. S. A., was tendered a farewell banquet in the Hotel La Salle last night by officers of the seventh zone supply office. The occasion marked his retirement on Sept. 1 to civilian life after a military service of more than thirty years.

He will be succeeded here by Col. Harry E. Wilkins, sole supply officer at New York.

RAILROAD BONDS OFFER CHANCE FOR INVESTORS

Fall to New Low Levels Makes Some Bar- gains.

In the present uncertain state of railroad credit the bonds of the important companies have fallen to, in some instances, new low levels.

All have declined from the prices earlier in the year, and it is possible investors may find bargains in the quoted rates of railroad bonds. Certainly, if the roads are to resume a normal status within the next twelve or eighteen months, then the interest return being assured, the recovery in principal should attract attractive purchases. To one buying for investment, however, there is to be kept in mind the character of the securities to be acquired before the roads are returned to their former owners. If there be faith in the outcome of congressional action, railroad bonds, interest yield and prospects considered, have a great deal in their favor.

Great Reasons for Drop.

One of the bond houses, Spencer, Traak & Co., is calling attention to railroad bonds, and, in an effort to set forth reasons for the present low range of prices, finds a number of factors have contributed. Causes operating generally for lower investment prices need not be considered as especially pertinent to railroad securities, but the lack of any general plan for settling the railroad situation is probably the most important. So far as can be seen, it is the one dominating cause.

With the investor disturbed over the question of railroad bonds, he is offered new issues of industrial and other bonds at attractive rates. Liberty loans have also affected bond buying.

The following issues, bearing from 3 to 5 percent, may be mentioned as being in the highest class, since they are legal for investment for the savings banks of New York. Atchafalaya general, which earlier in the year sold at 84 1/2, is now quoted at 77. They yield 3.9 percent. Atlantic Coast Line general, which sold at 101 earlier in the year, is now quoted at 95 1/2. They yield 4.0 percent. Chicago, Burlington and Quincy general 4 1/2, which has declined from 105 to 94 1/2. They yield 5.0 percent. Chicago and Northwestern general 5, which sold at 101 earlier in the year, is now quoted at 95 1/2. They yield 5.0 percent. Northern Pacific general 5, which sold at 101 earlier in the year, is now quoted at 95 1/2. They yield 5.0 percent. These are illustrations of decline in the highest type of railroad bonds.

Other Good Bonds.

There is another class of good bonds which, however, are not legal investments for savings banks. Their prices, however, have been more severe than the ones just mentioned, and the yield is higher. Central Pacific refunding 4 1/2, which sold at 101 earlier in the year, is now quoted at 95 1/2. They yield 4.5 percent. Chesapeake and Ohio general 4 1/2, which sold at 101 earlier in the year, is now quoted at 95 1/2. They yield 4.5 percent. St. Louis-Southern first 4 1/2, which sold at 101 earlier in the year, is now quoted at 95 1/2. They yield 4.5 percent. They have declined from 74.

There is still another class reasonably well secured, which should materially improve in price in the event of a fair settlement with the roads. Rock Island refunding 4 1/2, which sold at 101 earlier in the year, is now quoted at 95 1/2. They yield 4.5 percent. Missouri-Pacific general 4 1/2, which sold at 101 earlier in the year, is now quoted at 95 1/2. They yield 4.5 percent. They have declined 6 points from the price quoted in the year. New York Central refunding 4 1/2, which sold at 101 earlier in the year, is now quoted at 95 1/2. They yield 4.5 percent. At this price they yield 4.0 percent. Southern Railway 4 1/2, which sold at 101 earlier in the year, is now quoted at 95 1/2. They yield 4.5 percent. They have declined 6 points from the price quoted in the year.

Old Adage Holds.

It is an old adage in the securities market that the time to buy is when every one else is selling. This may not be interpreted literally, but it does mean that when pessimism and necessity have driven holders of securities to part with them without much regard for price, then is the time for the judicious buyer to make satisfactory investments.

CHICAGO STOCK TRANSACTIONS

Swift International and Swift & Co. were featured in the local market. International sold up to 59, but closed off 1/2, being a gain of that fraction for the day. There appears to be a large volume of buying orders a little under the market. This has afforded considerable confidence to buyers of the shares.

Swift & Co. gained 1 point, at 144.

Union Carbide was up better than 1 point, at 83. The directors of the company are scheduled to meet early this month and there is the usual talk of an increase in the dividend rate, now 5 percent. There is no authority for making a prediction.

Armour & Co. preferred sold off 1/2 point, to 104. Presumably the attractive bid in the issue prompted conversion of the shares in the dividend rate, and the sale of the latter at a profit. National leader was active, but showed no change in price, compared with previous session.
